A PRAYER.

O LORD GOD, who wilt have all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, grant that Thy whole church may readily obey the command of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, to go and teach all nations, so that the gospel of Thy grace may be known to the uttermost parts of the earth, and the way be made ready for the coming of the King. Speedily fulfill Thy purposes concerning Jew and Gentile. Take away blindness from Thine ancient people, and cause them to see Jesus Christ their Savior. Hasten the day when all Israel shall be saved, and when the fulness of the Gentiles shall be brought in. These things we ask in the name of Him who was given to be a light to lighten the Gentiles and the glory of Thy people Israel, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

The Toronto Convention was great.

It marks another milestone in our missionary development.

Now for $500,000 for Foreign Missions by September 30, 1914.

No greater addresses in our history than the Foreign Society presented at Toronto.

On to Atlanta! We will soon be "Marching through Georgia," five thousand strong.

The sixteen new missionaries sent out during the year will give great strength and encouragement to the workers in all the fields.

W. E. Ellis, Paris, Ky., says: "If we could so conduct our Sunday-schools as to hold all we get, the problem of world-evangelization would soon be solved."

The Report of the Foreign Society in this issue of the INTELLIGENCER is the most encouraging ever before presented to the brotherhood. Let us give thanks unto the Lord and press on.

There were 160,716 patients treated by our medical missionaries last year. That is a great report. That means about 440 every day, or about 18 every hour. That sounds good.

A friend in Arkansas sends $200 on the Annuity Plan. This is the sixteenth gift on this plan by this sister and her husband. The total is $5,100. This is a fitting way for Christian people to administer upon their own estates.

"We reached the $600 yesterday to continue our Living-link. Under the Budget Plan this church, for the first time in its history, has given something to all our missionary work. The total is much larger than any previous year's giving."—John G. Slayter, Dallas (East), Texas.

Peter Ainslie has been giving a lecture at the mid-week prayer-service based on one of the chapters in "Epoch-Makers of Modern Missions." When he began, the attendance numbered forty; at the last service there were four hundred present.

T. L. Lowe, of the West Fourth Street Church, Columbus, Ohio, has just made that church a Living-link in the Foreign Society. Referring to the matter, he says: "We have been working up to this for some time, and it is no flash in the pan. Will stay in the link."

"Here comes the $600 for our Living-link for Miss Edith Parker, Tokyo, Japan. It is such a pleasure to send this, and you will be glad to know that it was more easily raised this year than ever before, and we have increased our other offerings for the year."—Geo. L. Bush, Carrollton, Mo.

The Tabernacle Church, Lincoln, Neb.—E. J. Sias, minister—has made its first contribution to the Living-link Fund. They are beginning in a really apostolic way. Their house has not yet been constructed. E. J. Sias is a splendid missionary man, and his efforts will be seconded by a warm-hearted missionary people.

Hats off to the thirty-two churches and the five individuals that assumed the support of a missionary each during the past year. This makes thirty-seven new Living-links. The Living-links are a source of substantial strength and great encouragement to the missionary cause. See that your church is in the column before the year closes.

John S. Crenshaw, Cadiz, Ky., says: "If you ever hear it said that becoming a Living-link church destroys the interest in other matters, and has a tendency to weaken the church, you may tell the record of this church. Two years ago we commenced our Living-link connection, at which time we were paying $65 per month for preaching three Sundays of Longa, Africa, who was accidentally drowned September 3, 1913. The cablegram called for reinforcements.

THE ELDRED CHILDREN.

Robert Ray Eldred, Jr., 9 years old.
Philip Ward Eldred, 8 years old.
Joseph Paul Eldred, 6 years old.

THE DEATH OF R. RAY ELDRED.

WHAT SOME FRIENDS ARE SAYING.

"Sad, indeed, about R. Ray Eldred. A great loss to the work."—E. B. Barnes, Richmond, Ky.

"I can hardly realize that my old comrade, Ray, is drowned! What can it mean? God seems to have required of that family the full price, and challenges the church to send others to take up His work. God help us all to do our part."—Dr. Royal J. Dye.

"Little did I think, when I was with him in May last, that that would be the last time together. God knows, and we do n't."—W. H. Edwards, Indianapolis, Ind.

per month, and were limited to a single man, as we had no parsonage. Now, two years later, we are paying more than $1,000 preacher's salary for full time and have bought a parsonage for $1,800, nor have we given less for any offering than heretofore. This speaks for itself as to the power of the Living-link in the local church."

Two men were visitors at the convention who brought great messages of inspiration. One was Dr. A. J. Bowen, President of the University of Nankin. The magnitude of that enterprise, which includes the Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists, and Disciples in the university proper, and four other religious bodies in other departments; the earnestness, the Christian courtesy and passion for the work of Christ of Dr. Brown, made a profound impression. His work was a great contribution. The other was J. Campbell White, the tireless leader of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. No man can estimate the far-reaching influence of his visit. He stirred, instructed, and inspired us all.

Writing about the situation in Nankin, China, F. E. Meigs writes: "I have no doubt that you have been very anxious about us in these troublous times. We have been very anxious about Nankin, but the trouble is all over now, and no foreigner or foreign property has been injured. Is it not marvelous that a city could pass through such a siege and such a bombardment with no damage to anything belonging to the missionaries? Is not this God's hand? I verily believe it is. Kuling is the same lovely place. It is a great blessing to all the foreign population of the Yangtse Valley. This year has demonstrated that it is one of the safest places in China in time of riot and war. We have had war all around us, but it did not come nigh our dwelling."

THE SALLIE LONG READ MEMORIAL HOSPITAL, LAOAG, P. I.

This building has at last been completed. It was constructed by Dr. C. L. Pickett, the missionary in charge. It has required a great deal of time and labor.

The picture gives a full view of the building from the northeast. It almost misses, however, the view of the ten-foot porch which was built on the south. It is built of reinforced concrete.

The hospital is proving a great blessing to the work. The dispensary has never been so large as during the months of June and July last.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM DR. C. L. PICKETT.

The hospital and medical work keep me too busy to do much in the way of study or preparation for the religious side of things. Here in Laoag we have a native pastor and a Bible woman, and they, of course, take much of the work off of our shoulders; but notwithstanding this, there is all but an endless routine of things that requires supervision. For example, there are funerals. They afford us a splendid opportunity, oftentimes, for preaching the gospel to the people whom we seldom reach otherwise, but it is likely to take a half day. Then there are always a great many feasts and functions to which we are either invited or would be welcome where we can get in a good deal of preaching. But I am so busy that I practically have to pass all such things over.

Miss Siegfried became a past-master in getting into the native homes in this way, and she made it count. The supervision of the churches also needs some one's time badly, so please do not postpone the time of the sending of the new workers any longer than is absolutely necessary.

C. L. PICKETT, M. D.

THE CHANGING ORDER.

Growing men and institutions find it necessary to revise their programs and methods, and sometimes even their ideals and hopes. Change is written in large letters over all things human. Only God is perfect, and His Word unchangeable.

New methods, larger perspectives, changed attitudes, different approaches, are as essential in missions as in banking, railroading, farming, or manufacturing. God has given His blood-bought church the task of preaching the gospel to the whole creation. In His wisdom He did not give us all the methods, but only the joyous and inspiring task. Only one larger word in the New Testament than "Go," and that is "Love," and the former includes the latter. All the details of going, all the mere machinery and incidentals are graciously and wisely left to sanctify human wisdom.

The sessions of our late International Convention, and the new steps suggested for missionary offerings, apportionments, budgets, etc., have provoked these reflections. It was a notable gathering. A body of truer men never before gathered in the whole history of the universal Church. They were men of faith, men of deep piety, men who have been tried in all of the experiences of the Kingdom's on-going, and men who have laid all upon the altar of loyal, loving service. They are practical men; and those who have done something in the world as proof of their high calling.

Some small changes have been suggested in the mere matter of methods, conserving economy, avoiding semblance of friction, to cultivate fellowship and fraternity, and to emphasize efficiency. Every step is tentative and can be altered, and if it does not prove workable and for the best, will be changed.

Our people are standing in the morning of a new and larger day. They are seeing the world in clear outline, and in every vision that comes to them they see only through the cross of the Risen Lord. Their overmastering passion is that the world may be redeemed. Platitudes, and professionalism, and mere routine, and the clatter of the machinery of methods do not bulk large in their thinking, nor in their constantly growing love and enlarging program. The world will never be saved by the machinery of empty details. Christ is the abiding power. Without

Him and His spirit and motive the church is limp and maimed and halt. The world will be saved and the problems of the churches be solved only through multiplying Christian lives. Out of the fullness of life come organization and increased life and vitality, a call for readjustments, conciliations, new harmonies, and larger affection, and new standards of patience and forbearance.

What a day for our people this is! Our fathers longed for this day, and saw it not. Christ has been moving on the face of the deep, and the full-orbed day approaches. The world cries for the very bread of the unadulterated Word, which alone we have to offer. Our churches are seeking larger plans and are anxious for new forward movements. They call for worthy tasks. They seek new methods only that they may serve Christ better.

Our counsel is that every church and every disciple fall into line in the quicker step that is being taken, and listen to the wisdom of the brethren, under Christ, and be ready to enlarge our borders abroad, and strengthen our stakes and lengthen our cords at home.

It is a day for love and confidence, a time for prayer and faith and hope; it is a day for noble conquest, and a day for sacrifice and service.

The changing order registers new life. Like a growing boy, new adjustments are demanded. Every decade marks new business methods in the average growing local church. We should expect new suggestions for the task of world-wide evangelization.

The Toronto Convention.

The convention in Toronto was by far the best in the history of the Society. From the opening invocation to the last benediction there was the deepest interest in all the proceedings. The Annual Report showed that more converts had been made, that more missionaries had been sent out, and that more money had been raised than in any previous year. The victories won at the home base and on the fields added much to the enthusiasm of the convention.

The central thought of the addresses was "Fellowship with Christ." President Kershner, of Texas Christian University, spoke on "Fellowship with Christ in Service;" Prof. W. C. Bower spoke on "Fellowship with Christ in Suffering;" George A. Campbell, of Hannibal, Mo., spoke on "Fellowship with Christ in Life;" J. H. Goldner, of Cleveland, spoke on "Fellowship with Christ in Prayer," and Carey E. Morgan, of Nashville, Tenn., spoke on "Fellowship with Christ in Victory." These addresses were of high order; they were worthy of any platform in Christendom. In addition to these addresses, there were four others. Thus David W. Teachout, of Cleveland, spoke on "Christ Conquering China." He had been in China and spoke of what he had seen and heard and knew to be true. W. F. Holt, of Redlands, Cal., spoke on "A Business Man's View of World-Conquest." His heart is in the work, and the people listened with marked interest to his suggestions. J. Campbell White, of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, spoke on the Nation-Wide Missionary Campaign that is to begin soon, and that is to be consummated in an Every-Member Canvass for Missions. Dr. A. J. Bowen, President of the University of Nanking, spoke of the work of that institution. He told of the efforts of F. E. Meigs and Dr. Macklin and our other missionaries in China as they are related to the cause of union.

The missionaries present were as follows: Herbert Smith, Mrs. Herbert Smith, and Miss Edna V. Eck, of Africa; Miss Mary Rioch and A. W. Place, of Japan; Bruce L. Kershner and Miss Sylvia Siegfried, of the Philippine Islands. Each spoke briefly and to the point. All were heard with delight.

The following were present and were introduced: Frank Coop, R. George Quiggin, and J. H. Versey, of England; Horace Kingsbury, of Melbourne, Australia; Dr. E. C. Wilson, a Canadian Presbyterian missionary from Indore, India; Mrs. Decima C. Barclay, of Bethany, W. Va.; H. L. Willett, who has recently completed a tour of the world; Dr. Royal J. Dye, and Bert Wilson, the new field secretary.

The singing was unusually good and added much to the profit and enjoyment of the gathering. Only the great hymns of the church were sung. The special pieces rendered were worthy of the place and the cause. The singing evangelists were present in force and added greatly to the value of the song-services.

Each morning there was a prayer-service in the banquet hall of the King Edward Hotel. Between two and three hundred guests and others met to spend a half hour together in prayer and praise. On the morning of the Lord's day the service lasted an hour. The effects of that service were felt throughout the entire day.

The Toronto brethren made the most thorough preparation for the convention. They overlooked nothing, neglected nothing, forgot nothing. They secured Massey Hall, the best hall in which we have ever met. The Committee on Entertainment could not have done their work better. The same could be said and should be said of all the other committees.

The Toronto Convention will stand out like a mountain-peak in the minds of all who were present. The delegates and the visitors will have only delightful memories of the beautiful city of Toronto and of the hospitality of the Toronto people.

Mrs. Frank Garrett.

Mrs. Frank Garrett passed into the life eternal on Saturday, the 11th of October, at 2.30 P. M. A few days before her death she wrote to one of the officers of the Society as follows:

"Your letter was one of such good cheer, and brought such a large measure of the peace that abides in my heart, that I want to write and tell you so. We have had so many letters from friends here and in China, who are praying daily for me, and I do rejoice that we can number ourselves with this great company who have unbounded faith in prayer, and I feel such a confidence now that naught can happen but the best for us, that I am very happy and hoping that I may do something that will count for the work in the time that remains.

"But what measure of victory I may have attained has come through a hard struggle to understand God's ways. I came home so full of plans for entering school to prepare for work in Nankin in our new Union Bible College for women. I have so long looked forward to this work, and have been getting ready for it for years, but waiting for the larger work until the children enter school, and home duties be not so pressing. It has been hard to give up these plans because I know the need, and the opportunity, and the call for help. But there is comfort in the thought that my Father knows it, too, and the work will go on, and His name will be glorified in China. It has been a rare privilege to work there for seventeen years. I love the Chinese, and admire their qualities of mind and heart. So far as they know, they are certainly ahead of us here in their real unselfish devotion to the One Cause. I pray for you who shall bear the burdens of the next few years, wisdom and guidance from above, and may the Church hasten the glad Message! I feel as never before the despair of a soul without Christ the Comforter. He has been so immeasurably precious to me! I long for the day when every soul may know the joy of His presence."

"Too Late!"

A few churches were too late with their offerings to be credited on the missionary year ending September 30th. Of course, we regret this. While no injustice was intended, yet the contributing churches and many of the donors who expected their gifts to be included in the year's receipts will naturally feel disappointed. It is better not to defer sending the offering until the closing days of the missionary year. Send as soon as possible in the year. Many feel that it is better to forward the offerings as they are gathered. In this judgment we heartily concur.

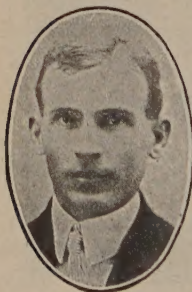

Let us turn over a new leaf and begin at once to prepare larger and more prompt things for the great mission cause. Many churches find real advantage in having a special treasurer for mission funds. However, this may not be best in some churches. Much depends upon the treasurer, the preacher, the church, and the office of the Foreign Society. We will all join hands for a more prompt and efficient service in the Lord's work for the new missionary year. Please do not defer sending offerings until the last hour. Let our motto be: "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

Hira Lal.

(This name means Red Diamond.)

GEO. E. MILLER.

Twenty-five years ago, when Mr. Jackson opened the work in Mungeli, he used to gather the young men under the great mango tree near his tent and talk to them and teach them. Among those who came was a small lad by the name of Hira Lal. He was a mischievous fellow, and laughed and talked in time of school. He told me one day that he did it to resist the influence which the Word was having upon him. He became interested, and Mr. Jackson had the pleasure of baptizing him in the stream which flows behind the present mission hospital.

Hira Lal had always had the desire to be a doctor. So, when Dr. Anna Gordon took up work in Mungeli, she began training him. He was an apt pupil and developed rapidly. He is a physician by instinct, and the work he can do is really remarkable, considering the pit from which he was dug. Operating for cataract is one of his specialties. He is a good right-hand man to have by one in time of difficult operations. No matter how long or difficult the work, Hira Lal is there to the finish.

He is kind and sympathetic, and therefore liked by all the people. He is spiritual and a good impromptu speaker, and is thus able to appeal to the patients in his talks. I have seen him hold the attention of the simple-minded villagers for twenty minutes or more.

He has been in Mungeli since the beginning of Christian work there, and is able to give much good advice to missionaries and newer helpers. He is not a bad companion, and he and I have spent many pleasant hours together. When I came away on furlough he rode out about a mile with me, and his was the last Mungeli face I saw.

At the present time he is conducting the medical work in Mungeli, and a recent letter from Mr. Grainger says he is doing well. He is having from fifty to ninety cases a day. One such convert as he will repay all that has ever been spent for mission work in Mungeli.

Obedience Pays.

I have just finished reading an extract in THE MISSIONARY INTELLIGENCER by Dr. W. A. Frymire concerning our beloved missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnston, and the enjoyable meetings they were having while en route to the field, and I want you to know that no greater joy has ever come into my experience than that which has already come to me and to the Island Church from the supporting of this loyal man of God. The Island Church has never prospered as it has since it undertook this great work. While our people number only about two hundred and fifty, and all in very moderate circumstances, yet how the money comes into our treasury is almost a miracle. Up until the first of September this year we handled more money, by $1,300, than for the entire year of 1912, with something like $1,500 due to the church on pledges by some of the strongest supporters. And the finest feature is that we go down in our pockets for it. I have between fifty and sixty people in my church who are contributing from one to six dollars per Sunday for the support of our work. If you know of a little body of people who can surpass that, please let me know of it. I do not tell you this in a boastful spirit, or to cast any bouquets at myself, but as a demonstration of what a church can do when it gets a vision of the imperative needs of the world and the individual responsibility that such a vision brings.

God bless the Foreign Christian Missionary Society in its great work for Him! is the earnest prayer of your friend and co-worker,

CHAS. F. HUTSLAR.

The August number of THE MISSIONARY INTELLIGENCER is an uplifting number. It is a delight to see the quality of this good magazine recording such improvement. It has always been a source of inspiration, but it is taking on a dignity and meanness and force that is delightful to see.

A Few Striking Sentences from Convention Addresses.

The following are from the addresses on the Foreign Society's program at Toronto:

We should be giving $2,500,000 for Foreign Missions each year.—W. F. Holt, California.

Not until we have gone with Christ into His Gethsemane of prayer can we go with Him into His Galilee of service.—J. H. Goldner.

Why should we have a Scriptural method for current expense and no method at all for the rest of the world?—J. Campbell White.

In China there are 8,000 square miles and 13,000,000 people in the region our missionaries occupy. With 47 missionaries we are trying to accomplish this task.

You can not imagine the religious deception practiced upon the poor Filipinos. Won't you send these poor saint-worshipping, priest-ridden people the pure gospel of Christ?—Sylvia Siegfried, P. I.

It costs more to have real fellowship with Christ in prayer than to give of money, or even of life. It means more for a man to dedicate his life to prayer for the cause than to give $5,000 for missions.—J. H. Goldner.

The missionary must be a "jack of all trades." If you are planning to go out you must be carpenters, contractors, milliners, teachers, laundrymen, housekeepers, and in fact everything else, besides being evangelists.—Mary Rioch, Japan.

One of the greatest opportunities in the Orient is that of planting Biblical teaching and training alongside the great national university in Manila. Through the splendid gift of a good friend to the work, we are going to accomplish this task.—Bruce L. Kershner, P. I.

The United Presbyterians in their Every-Member-Canvass Campaign last year increased their foreign missionary offerings $1 per capita, and at the same time added $1.07 per capita to their current expense fund. These people now give over $6 per member for missions.—J. Campbell White.

The missionaries' graves challenge us to greater tasks and inspire us to higher heroism, but it's a shame when lack of equipment or support has caused any of those graves. I am afraid when the news is fully heard from Africa, it will be that Ray Eldred lost his life traveling in a dugout canoe, when he should have had a launch.—Bert Wilson.

F. E. Meigs, your own missionary, has been the greatest factor in the beginning and the continuance of University of Nankin, one of the most striking examples of Christian unity in all the East.

In China we are getting together. Who could give himself to so small a thing as denominational work with all our opportunities and problems in China?—Dr. A. J. Bowen, President University of Nankin, China.

On motion, telegrams of sympathy were ordered sent to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garrett, now in Des Moines, Iowa; to Mrs. M. D. Adams, Hiram, Ohio, and to Mr. and Mrs. James Ware, of Shanghai, China. These telegrams were sent because of Thirty-Eighth Annual Report.

REPORT ON THE HOME BASE.

The blessings of the Heavenly Father have been very evident in the work of the year. Although there have been a number of things to detract from the work of the year, yet the receipts have gone far ahead of any former year. There have been serious drouths in the West and Southwest, disastrous floods in the Central States, and a freeze in California, besides the constant political and financial unrest. However, the people have responded well to the missionary appeal.

STEADY INCREASE IN RECEIPTS.

The steady increase in the receipts of the Society for thirty-eight years is an index of the growth of the missionary sentiment among our people. There has been an increase every year but five. Every year for the past twelve has witnessed an advance in the increase except one. The receipts have almost doubled in ten years. More churches and Sunday-schools have given this year than last. Thirty-two new Living-links have been enrolled. The income from personal contributors is encouraging. Annuity gifts have also increased. Receipts from bequests are more than last year.

THE CHURCH OFFERINGS.

The number of contributing churches has increased by 151, but the receipts have fallen off $5,964. The total gifts from this source were $129,871.11. The fact that a goodly number more of the churches gave than last year is encouraging, and leads us to the conclusion that the drouth and floods had most to do in the reduction of the offerings.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The total amount received from the Sunday-schools was $92,853.42, which was $101.50 more than the year before. There was a gain of seventy in the number of contributing schools. The loyal gifts of the Sunday-schools is a great inspiration.

INDIVIDUAL OFFERINGS.

The total gifts from this source amounted to $101,376.42, a gain over last year of $16,259. This is the largest amount given by individuals in the history of the work. There were 1,276 individual gifts during the year. This is the second largest source of income for the Society, having surpassed the Sunday-schools in the amount given.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES.

Perhaps there is no constituency in the church which has more calls made upon it than the Endeavorers. However, a great number of societies are very happy to have fellowship directly in the foreign work. The Orphanage at Damoh, India, is the ward of the Endeavorers, and they delight in supporting it. Last year the offering from the Endeavor Societies amounted to $9,045.26. This was a loss over the year before of $1,100.52.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Committee appointed at Louisville has served throughout the year. There has been one, and only one, change in the personnel. B. C. Deweese resigned on account of the condition of his health, and J. D. Armistead, of Cynthiana, Kentucky, was elected in his place. Professor Deweese served the Society most faithfully and for many years. His resignation was deeply regretted by all his associates.

MOVEMENTS OF THE MISSIONARIES.

The following have returned to their fields after their furloughs: Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCoy, Miss Jessie J. Asbury, and Miss Mary Frances Lediard, to Japan; Mr. and Mrs. Justin E. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, to China; Dr. Jennie V. Fleming and C. E. Benlehr, to India, and Dr. and Mrs. Shelton, to Tibet. The following have come home on furlough: Miss Mary Rioch and Mr. and Mrs. P. A.

Davey, of Japan; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garrett, from China; Dr. George E. Miller, from India; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, from Africa. Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Poland have given up their work in China and are now in America. Dr. and Mrs. James Butchart have left Luchowfu for Nanking. Dr. Butchart will teach in the Medical School of Nanking University. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Erskine have taken up work in Osaka. In India, Miss Stella Franklin has gone to Mungeli; Miss Josepha Franklin, to Damoh; Miss Jennie V. Fleming, to Harda; Miss Mary L. Clarke, to Kulpahar, and Miss Olive Griffith to Bilaspur. Miss Muriel Molland, of China, and Miss Rose L. Johnson, of Japan, have resigned.

NEW MISSIONARIES.

The following have left for the field: C. H. Plopper and Miss Lulu Snyder, to China; Dr. W. A. Frymire, Miss Edith Apperson, Mrs. C. P. Hedges, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Johnston, to Africa; W. H. Scott, to India; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burner, to Cuba; A. G. Saunders, to the Philippines; Miss Winifred Brown, to Japan. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Shaw, after some years in America, have returned to China. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moody are under appointment to India; their departure has been delayed a few weeks.

THE NEW FIELD SECRETARY.

Bert Wilson, of Lincoln, Nebraska, has been employed as a field secretary. He will visit churches and conventions and endeavor to secure suitable men and women to send as missionaries, and large gifts for the support of the work. He will call the attention of the people whom the Lord has prospered to the propriety and wisdom of bequeathing a portion of their estate to the Society. There is no limit to the work of this kind that should be done. A dozen field secretaries could not cultivate the whole field.

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NANKING.

Seven missionary societies have co-operated in establishing a Medical School in connection with the University of Nanking. This school will serve all East China. Dr. Butchart represents the Society on the teaching staff of this school. The hospital of the Society will be the hospital of the Medical School. Dr. Macklin does not feel able to keep up his medical work as he has been doing. He and the other missionaries feel that it would be a great mistake to attempt to compete with the hospital of the Medical School. With the hospital owned and equipped by the Medical School of the university, it will do a far greater work than it has ever done. The other societies co-operating will pay enough to give them an equal right to the hospital property. The China Mission has earnestly recommended this course.

TIBET.

The missionaries have been obliged to remain away from Tibet during the year on account of disturbances on the Chinese border incident to the Revolution. Things have quieted, however, and in September Dr. Skelton and family and Dr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Hardy started from Nankin, China, on the long journey to the Tibetan border. It is expected that J. C. Ogden and family and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baker will start back the first of the year.

CHINA.

This has been a year of transition and not a little anxiety in China. The country has been unsettled because of the political changes and struggle to maintain the republic. The missionaries have been in great favor with the people, and the work has advanced rapidly in spite of unsettled conditions. It is the decisive hour of missions in China, and everywhere doors are open for advance.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

More and more is missionary education being stressed in the Sunday-schools. During the year a great number of the schools have used the prayer-cycle topics each Sunday and the monthly missionary programs. From January to April these programs dealt with the foreign work, and David Livingstone was the central theme. The portrait of this great missionary hero was unveiled in about 2,000 of the schools. From April until June the theme was "India," and on Children's Day the portrait of G. L. Wharton, pioneer missionary to India, was unveiled. The Sunday-schools are furnishing much fuel for our missionary fires.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES.

Our Endeavor Societies are interested in missions, and demonstrate their interest in very practical fashion. They give enough money to take care of all the boys at the Damoh (India) Orphanage, and help much in the maintenance of the farm and industrial department. This year many societies have contributed also to the Boys' School at Lotumbe, Africa, and the support of the boys there and at other stations. Some of them have evangelists of their own preaching for them in far-away lands. This past year the Endeavorers have been interested, more than ever before, in the study of missions, and a number of societies have had regular courses or reading circles with the definite idea of gaining information regarding our own work and workers in foreign fields. Needless to say, we have met them more than half way and have provided such material as they have requested. During the coming year, in connection with the study of "The New Era in Missions," we will be prepared to supply attractive literature on all our fields, which may be used to supplement the regular courses offered. China will perhaps be chosen by most of the societies, with "The Emergency of China" as text-book. Just what we are doing in China will be prepared in convenient leaflet form and will be sent upon request. This should be the greatest year yet in missionary education.

THE NEED OF WORKERS.

This is the greatest of all needs. The Society needs evangelists, physicians, and teachers. It needs men and women of ability and culture and consecration; it needs men and women who have the gift of leadership. There is an idea current that the Society has more applicants than it can employ. Such is not the case. Qualified workers are always needed. The Society is searching for them from the beginning of the year to the end. Our Lord told His disciples to pray the Lord of the harvest, that He would send forth laborers into His harvest. The reason He assigned was this: The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few. The same reason should cause Christians in this day to pray the Lord of the harvest to raise up men of the right kind for the fields. It is because the church has ceased to pray that the men are not forthcoming as needed.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGNS.

Last year it was reported that some $700,000 had been assured on the campaign that had been started under the leadings of the Spirit by the Foreign Society for one million dollars for the equipment, maintenance, and enlargement of our mission stations. It can confidently be stated that the million dollars is assured if all who have pledged will carry out their intentions as definitely expressed. The finish of the campaign was characterized by the same insistence on prayer that marked its beginning. The greatest result from this movement has not been financial, but has been the emphasis on the spiritual and the rising of a spiritual tide among the churches and individuals.

Out of this campaign has been born the Men and Millions Movement, whereby more than two million dollars shall be raised and a thousand workers shall be put in the home and foreign fields. Out of this movement has come the great challenge to the church whereby one woman has covenanted with her Heavenly Father and with the mission of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society in Tibet to build churches and chapels to the number of thirty, as stations and out-stations are opened in Tibet. Out of this movement has come the definite assurance as never before that God will bless us when we go forward on our knees, and that nothing is too great for Him when in faith we call upon His name.

MISSION STUDY.

Eleven thousand and five hundred missionary books were sent out from this office during the past year, including text-books on all countries. Over one hundred and fifty mission study classes were reported, and there were hundreds of others of which we had no record. One of the most interesting and profitable educational campaigns in which we have ever engaged was the one in connection with the Livingstone Centenary, which was observed in many of our churches. Appropriate literature on the life of David Livingstone was supplied for all departments of the church, and much attention given to the study of Africa. This was the beginning of what is to be an annual mission study campaign in churches of every denomination. During the coming year the theme will be, "The New Era in Missions," with special emphasis on China, and it is expected that a much larger number of churches will make this an important feature of their year's work.

LITERATURE.

The Missionary Intelligencer has appeared each month. No pains have been spared to make the magazine one of the best of its class in the world. The letters from the fields have kept the readers informed as to the progress of the work. The difficulties encountered and the triumphs won have been set forth in the plainest terms. Booklets and leaflets without number have been printed and scattered far and near. The following books have been published: "Among Central African Tribes," "Sunshine and Shadow on the Tibetan Border," "Epoch-makers of Modern Missions." Two books have been written about two of the pioneer missionaries of the Society: "A West-Pointer in the Land of the Mikado," by Laura D. Garst, and "The Life of G. L. Wharton," by Emma R. Wharton. A new edition of "Opals from Africa," by A. F. Hensey, has been published. There is a constant demand for "Bolenge," "In the Shadow of the Drum Tower," "Breaking Down Chinese Walls," "The Social Work of Christian Missions," "Where the Book Speaks," and "Ten Lessons in World Conquest."

THE DEAD.

The names of those who have entered into the life that is life indeed are as follows: Mrs. R. Ray Eldred and R. Ray Eldred, Africa; T. B. Fischer, Australia; L. C. Stow, Colorado; E. L. Frazier, Florida; William Durban, England; Mrs. Lena B. Knights and Dr. Geo. W. Taylor, Illinois; A. R. Milligan and Mrs. Sallie K. Yancey, Kentucky, T. P. Haley, Missouri; Abraham Teachout, Ohio; W. A. Boggess, Texas. Mrs. Eldred and Mr. Durban were missionaries and had served the Society faithfully and effectively. They rest from their labors, and their works do follow them. T. B. Fischer was one of the most useful men in Australia, and a good and true friend of the Lord's work everywhere. He was the secretary of the Federal Foreign Missions Committee. L. C. Stow and Abraham Teachout were successful business men. Their interest in the spread of the gospel grew till their translation. E. L. Frazier and T. P. Haley preached the gospel for about half a century each. Both spent their lives in Christ's service. W. A. Boggess died in his youth. He worked while he could, and accomplished much. Mrs. Yancey was the secretary of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions in Kentucky, and wore out her life in the work. Mrs. Knights was an active member and diligent worker in the Englewood Church. These all died in faith and in the sure and certain hope of immortality.

THE DEATH OF R. RAY ELDRED.

No sadder news has ever come to the Society than that contained in a recent cablegram stating that Brother Eldred, of Longa, Africa, was accidentally drowned on September 3d. No particulars were given. It is known, however, that he and W. R. Holder were to be at this time on a long itinerate through the heart of the forest, preaching. A year ago on the ninth of November Mrs. Eldred fell asleep while the two were alone on the station. Brother Eldred is survived by his three little boys; his brother, W. G. Eldred, pastor at Carlisle, Ky.; two sisters, and his aged father and mother in Michigan.

Ray Eldred was one of our pioneers in the Congo. He and Mrs. Eldred went out in 1902 and joined Dr. and Mrs. Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Faris, and the Laytons at Bolenge. His work has always been of the rugged pioneer type. He delighted in this. He combined rare mechanical skill with strong evangelistic qualities. Ray Eldred went everywhere preaching the Word. No journey was too arduous for him, no personal danger too great, if he could aid his beloved jungle people. After Mrs. Eldred died the Society asked him to move to Bolenge with the other missionaries until reinforcements came. It was thought that the loneliness of the distant station would be too much for him. His answer was characteristic: "How can I leave my people? I am their teacher, and they need me. I will stay at Longa until the workers come. As I toil for those whom I love, God will lift the burden of loneliness from my heart." R. Ray Eldred was one of the noblest of missionaries. One can hardly measure the loss that his death brings to the work, to the missionaries, and to his black children in the Faith, who loved him as few men are loved.

THE WORK OF THE YEAR SUMMARIZED.

In the earlier years of our missionary work we did not expect large visible results. The work was like the planting of an orchard and fruitage could not be demanded until there was time for the roots to take hold and the trees to grow. We have now passed the period of beginnings in many of the fields, and God is giving to our people the joy of a rich harvest. This has been the most fruitful year on the fields the work has ever known, notwithstanding the trying conditions which have existed in several of the mission lands. China has been in a very unsettled condition; our missionaries have not been able to return to Tibet, and Japan has been greatly stirred and prejudiced because of the questions at issue in California. The missionaries report 2,958 baptisms, a gain of over twenty per cent, or an average of twenty-five baptisms for each family and single missionary we have on the fields. The same proportionate number of converts in America would have meant the adding of over 200,000 to the membership of our churches last year. The Philippine Mission reports 798 baptisms, and the African Mission 1,305. This last field records the remarkable gain of over sixty per cent. China reports twice as many baptisms as in any one year before, one hundred of these being reported from the University of Nankin alone.

The medical missionaries have been very busy, and report the treatment of 160,716 patients. Seventeen thousand one hundred and forty-one pupils are reported in the Sunday-schools. In the nearly fifty schools and colleges of the Society 5,772 pupils have been in attendance, 283 of whom are studying for the ministry. This is one out of every fifty of our membership in mission fields. Nothing is more hopeful than this phase of the work. It is an interesting fact to notice that the contributions and school and hospital fees in our mission fields amounted to $58,685, a far larger sum than the administration expenses of the Society here at home.

SALIENT POINTS IN YEAR'S WORK.

The following are some of the most striking facts embodied in the reports from the far fields:

1. The pathetic need of workers. In spite of the fact that we have sent out more new missionaries this year than ever before, several of the fields are in most distressing need. This is especially true of India and Japan. These two great fields challenge the strongest and most intellectual young men and women among us to come out and have partnership with Christ in their redemption. Five strong couples are needed for these lands. The call that comes is as high as any that comes from any pulpit or college among us—who will answer, "Here am I, O Lord; send me?"

2. The remarkable changes in China. Thirteen years ago the Boxer uprising was at its height, and at the instigation of the empress dowager, old China was trying to destroy every vestige of Christianity from her midst. Christian blood was flowing in her streets, and thousands had paid for their faith with their lives. On the twenty-ninth of last April, under the leadership of President Yuan Shi Kai, New China called on the whole Christian world to pray for her that the new Republic and her officials might be guided by Christian virtue in the shaping of her future. Thirteen years ago a brave young missionary by the name of Horace Pitkin defended with his life the women of the Pao Ting fu Mission against the atrocities of the bloodthirsty Boxers. Last February John R. Mott and Sherwood Eddy held a meeting for Chinese students on this very spot, with 3,000 in attendance. When the invitation was given, 300 young men confessed their faith in Christ.

3. The challenge to occupy Tibet. We have wondered at the providence of God in barring our missionaries for a little while from the Tibetan border. Perhaps it has been only that He might lead us to greater things in that needy, far-off land. During the campaign of our Million Dollar Team a wealthy woman became deeply interested in Dr. Shelton's appeal for his people on the roof of Asia. She called him to her home, and after much conference together and prayer, she has signed a covenant with God and the Foreign Society to build all the chapels and churches for six main stations and twenty-five out-stations in Tibet as fast as the points can be opened. She also pledges, if God prospers her, to put her entire fortune into Tibet in order that every man, woman, and child in that great, needy field may know of Christ. And this good woman is not a member of the Christian Church, but a Methodist! She will provide the buildings if we will provide the missionaries and workers. What a call to our people! What a challenge to some wealthy man or woman amongst us to put $10,000 a year for ten years into Tibet's evangelization and thus have partnership with this noble woman in one of the greatest pieces of world-statesmanship ever undertaken!

4. The Continuation Conferences. Nothing has ever stimulated Foreign Missions as has the visit of John R. Mott and his party to India, China, and Japan this year. In these meetings this great missionary statesman has been following out the directions of the Edinburgh Conference and laying the foundations for a far greater work in mission lands. The missionaries and native Christians of all communions have gotten together for careful conference on the great problems of their fields, and have in the finest spirit of Christian unity worked out plans for the occupancy of these lands for Christ.

5. Striking victories in several fields. The hospital at Luchowfu, China, reports 28,000 treatments. Dr. James Butchart, a Canadian son, is the physician in charge. The putting of $5,000 in the construction of that healing plant was certainly a gilt-edged investment.

The year marks the completion of the Sallie Long Reed Memorial Hospital at Laoag, P. I., and puts into the hands of Dr. C. L. Pickett the only hospital among half a million people.

The church at Lotumbe, Africa, where the missionaries have only resided for three years, reports 465 baptisms, with an increase in membership for this year of 122 per cent.

The little mission press at Bolenge, Africa, has just turned off a 400-page Lunkundu-English lexicon, the first vocabulary ever printed in the native tongue.

6. The growth of Christian unity in China. The recent meetings of the Edinburgh Conference Committee in China revealed a remarkable longing for a greater unity in the work of all religious bodies. The doing of a common task, the facing of the great wall of heathenism, the recognition that this is a decisive hour in the religious history of China, and the steady pressure of Chinese Christians, who have no interest in the creeds and differences of Christendom, all combine to mark a decisive epoch in the approach towards Christian unity in this great field. The year's work in the University of Nankin has been most satisfactory. The point at which there was most apprehension has been reached and passed without the slightest difficulty. Nearly one hundred of these select students have united with the church during the year. A Union Medical College in connection with the university has been launched; the Union Bible College is under way, with a year's splendid work already finished. A Union Nurses' School is in full blast, and a Union Women's College for Central China is now being planned. A Union Language School, in which new missionaries can learn Chinese, has been established, and a union school for missionaries' children has been running for a year. These tendencies toward Christian unity in education are along the lines of least resistance, but they show that down deeper is a real longing for vital unity. One of the striking features of the Conference directed by John R. Mott, composed of missionaries and Chinese Christians from all over China, was the recommendation that there be a fresh study by all Christians of the faith and order held by those who differ from them, the holding of conferences from time to time for the discussion of important subjects of Christian unity, prayer for the whole church of Christ in private and public worship, and confession of our sins against one another and intercession for the growth of unity.

But this was not all. Listen to this recommendation: "Finally, in order to do all that is possible to manifest the unity which already exists among all faithful Christians in China, and to present ourselves in the face of the great mass of Chinese non-Christian people as one brotherhood with one common name, this committee suggests as the most suitable name for this purpose, The Christian Church in China."

What a call to our people—what an incentive to immediate action! How we need to send to China and other fields a sufficient number of strong men and women to participate and lead in these great things for which we stand! Shall the very movement for which we have so long prayed, and for which our plea has been so largely responsible, now suffer for want of leadership to direct it? The opportunity of a century has come to us and from a nation whose new church wants union—shall we meet the opportunity?

INTRODUCTORY.

Space does not allow of our telling all that is in our hearts concerning our loved work in Japan, for though we find many disheartening things as we go, when we look back over the year we can see that things are being moved by God's power and that Japan is nearer the goal of a Christian nation than ever before—how much nearer we can not tell, for there are forces at work of which we do not dream until some occasion shows them.

There can be no doubt that the leaders of Japan's progress are realizing the need of a religious foundation, and they are expressing this in various ways. Another conference of religions has been called, and Christianity will be represented by her very strongest and most fearless teachers. One of the best articles written concerning the California question was by Mr. Ebina, the pastor of a strong independent church, who stated fearlessly that the Japanese can not assimilate with other peoples until they put away their ancestor-worship and unite with the great nations of the world in the belief in the one true God. He contends that the difference between the European and the Asiatic immigrants is a religious one, and that Japan must recognize this fact before she can be on an equality with the other nations. In a recent educational meeting, a speaker said that what is lacking in the Japanese education is the education of the heart, and we know, and all of our supporters at home know, that there is only one Teacher who can properly educate the heart.

One of the great events of the year was the coming of Dr. Mott, whose conferences with missionary and Japanese leaders have given a new vision. His appeal was for leadership and true Christian union. He believes that by the proper distribution of forces and union of effort, Japan would be evangelized in three years.

Not only is the general outlook encouraging, but within the range of our own work we see advancement. There are three objective points in our work: the disarming of prejudice, the conversion of unbelievers, and the strengthening of the church. An extract from Miss Parker's report gives one of the instances which make our faces shine: "As you know, one of our greatest problems is to find suitable teachers for the schools, and many of the teachers are non-Christian, as Christian teachers are so scarce. One of our best teachers, a graduate of the Imperial University, has been led to Christ and is now ready for baptism. Hear his own testimony: 'My, it is a terrible thing not to have any religion! You can't understand the awful loneliness of it. I used to be a Buddhist, but could not believe in it, so gave it up, and was without any religion for a long time. I had no idea of becoming a Christian when I came to teach in this school, four years ago. In fact, I was opposed to Christianity; but the quiet, Christian influence here, the daily reading of the Bible and singing hymns in chapel have somehow changed my heart. I do n't know how, but O, I am so happy in it all! Are n't the Psalms wonderful?'"

As for baptisms, we do not have the great ingatherings that are reported from some fields. Our statistical report shows just what has been done. We keep always before ourselves and our Christian leaders the thought that we have come to bring men to Christ, and feel that our success or failure is shown, not necessarily by the actual number of baptisms, but by our failure to emphasize this point. Our churches are making progress, both in spiritual strength and in self-support. The question of self-support is a hard one here. Many reasons are given; one of the strongest, probably, is the old feudal idea of every one being a dependent of some one else. The Japanese mind can not quickly grasp an idea entirely different from the "custom of our country," and the duty and necessity of being independent of foreign support makes little appeal. However, they are moving, and there is no way but to "keep at them" continually in the spirit of love.

OUR SCHOOLS—TAKINOGAWA.

Drake Bible College.—When we speak of this school, we must first emphasize our need. The variety of subjects that must be taught makes it impossible for the present force to do efficient work. Although the enrollment is small, the number of hours of teaching is great. Just love is the force of the plea being urged in Japan now for union in theological work, which would make for efficiency and economy in both men and means. We believe that this must come before a sufficient number of properly trained men can be put into the field. An evangelistic band was organized this year by the young men of the school and church, and they have done a fine work among the homes of the neighborhood.

Boys' Middle School.—One point emphasized in Dr. Mott's conference was the need and value of Christian Middle Schools (high schools), since statistics show that these schools have the students at the period of life when they are ripest for conversion. We have aimed to have our school excel in education so that it will attract the best young men, and although Christianity is not forced upon the boys, it is the liveliest subject in the school. The influence of Christian teachers is important, but since we can not find enough of these we have to take the best non-Christians we can find. A year ago President Ishikawa gave an address to the Teachers' Club, in which he explained the fundamental principles of Christianity and the purpose of our schools. One of the men said it was the greatest religious address he ever heard, and that he intended to become a Christian. He is now the enthusiastic superintendent of the church Sunday-school. This spring two more teachers have asked for baptism and are preparing for it.

Margaret K. Long Girls' School.—This year has seen some important changes in the girls' school. The first was the obtaining of Government recognition, which secures the same privileges and rank as are accorded to Government schools of the same grade. This step has given new life and vigor to the school, and has materially increased the enrollment. We rejoice in this, because every new girl who enters means that one more home is opened to Christian influence. The newly established Home Economics Department will also contribute greatly to this end. This appeals strongly to the Japanese, as they feel that, though comparatively few girls go into the high schools, all should have training in these subjects, which center about the home and contribute to the happiest, healthiest, and most efficient family life. There is a three years' course for graduates of the elementary schools, and special work for the fourth and fifth-year classes of the high school. Some of the dormitory rooms are being used for this work—a very unsuitable and inconvenient arrangement, but the need was so great we could not wait longer for the building. We are hoping and praying for it in the near future. This work is conducted by Miss Parker and capable Japanese assistants.

Miss Clawson writes: "In March we graduated a class of eight beautiful, strong girls, five from the Bible school and three from the high school. All the former entered into active Christian work, and all the latter entered the Bible school to train for service. We have now in full operation four departments: Bible School, High School, Home Economics Department, and Kindergarten, the latter being under the care of Mrs. Place. We hope this year to have a new missionary come to develop the Music Department." This need can not be too strongly emphasized. A good music course would be one more thing to attract girls to the school, and the musical training of the Bible women is of the greatest importance. Good music is as important a factor here as in America in Sunday-school and evangelistic work, and the Bible woman must be prepared to take the lead and train others.

The girls of the Bible school and the older high school girls have almost entirely supported three Sunday-schools, and have helped in five others. They have also helped with women's and children's meetings and calling in the homes. Every Wednesday night in the school library a meeting has been held for the wives and daughters of the farmers and merchants of the vicinity. Three of these are now awaiting baptism. A monthly meeting is also held for the women teachers and the wives of the men teachers.

Miss Clawson, the principal of the school, has made the evangelistic spirit the first thing, which means much for the work of the mission. The fifteenth anniversary of her coming to Japan was beautifully celebrated at the school on April 10th.

Kindergartens.—Our kindergartens now number five. One in Akita, conducted by Miss Garst; two in Tokyo, conducted by Miss Rioch; one in Takinogawa, of which Mrs. Place has charge, and the newest, started this year in Osaka, by Mrs. Madden. Miss Rioch has also a flourishing primary school with an average enrollment of 213 children. Three of the graduates of this year have entered the Girls' School in Takinogawa.

The kindergarten work falls into three departments: kindergarten, Sunday-school, and mothers' club. By means of the regular meetings of the mothers' club and the calling in the homes by the director and teacher, the mothers are kept in close touch with the work and brought under Christian influence. The cooking class is an attraction to women of the higher class. Mrs. Place's has been especially successful, as the women have shown a marked interest in the Christian talks given after the cooking lesson by different speakers. The Akita kindergarten is the oldest and largest, with an average attendance of fifty-one, the Sunday-school averaging about the same. We feel the need of a library to help the teachers in their work, and a piano to strengthen the singing and rhythm work.

The Christian kindergartens have to compete now with both the Government and Buddhist kindergartens; in order to do it successfully and thus have influence in these hundreds of homes, we must excel in equipment and work. Can we do less than our best in the Master's service?

SENDAI.

A number of interesting things have happened in Sendai District during the past mission year. The Sendai chapel was injured by fire, and the services of the Lord's day were held in the Robinsons' home for six weeks. Miss Rose Johnson, who was bravely holding the fort alone in Fukushima, returned to America on furlough, and as no one was available to take her place, the work there has suffered a severe loss. Mr. Robinson goes to Fukushima every Sunday morning to teach a class of normal school students. The coming of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Young will be a blessing to that work. Mr. Young writes: "We have been in the Tokyo Language School, giving all of our time to the study of the language. Have recently returned from a tour of the Sendai District, and especially Fukushima, our future home, and are greatly pleased with the seeming possibilities of the work, especially Sunday-school work. We would like to be there now in active work, but feel the great need for a knowledge of the language to make our work more effective when we do locate."

A new out-station, named Shirakawa, has been opened during the year. It is a city of more than 15,000 people, located on the railroad, exactly half way between Sendai and Tokyo. We have two Christian families there, and a number of young men who are deeply interested in the work of the church. There is only one Protestant church there besides our own, and up and down the railroad on either side are towns not yet evangelized by anybody.

The women's work continues about the same as last year: one meeting for young women every Saturday, and one for all the women of the church once a month. Mrs. Robinson has led many of the meetings herself this year, and taught a Sunday-school class for several weeks. She has given music lessons regularly to three young women. The six pastors in Sendai District visit fifteen places regularly, and hold services for children as well as adults. Several thousand tracts have been distributed, and many Bibles sold. The Sendai pastor often holds street meetings. Two young men from Sendai are studying for the ministry, and two more have made application to enter the Bible school. Five young women also from this district are preparing for evangelistic work.

AKITA.

This year has been the best that the present Akita force has known. We are seeing real advancement and are realizing the possibilities and needs of this great district as never before. There are at least 800,000 people here. Our mission is not alone, but it is leading, and yet we have only one missionary family, two single ladies, and eight evangelists. The very least force we can think of as sufficient to even touch the work is another family, two single ladies, and three times the present number of evangelists. Two of the evangelists have come during the last year and are located at Sakata and Shiyo, making possible intensive work in places formerly without any minister. Tsuchizake has developed a practically independent church with its own pastor, who, while yet a business man, conducts Sunday-school, prayer-meeting, and church services. The prayer-meetings in the Christian homes of Tsumoka, the increase in baptisms and giving in Sakata, the growing spirit of self-reliance, and the strong young Christians in Akita City—these are things that make us feel that God has rewarded us according to our faith. The Akita church is surely going forward in self-support and self-government. It has meant much to Mr. McCall, while alone in the large district, to have the church officers assume the responsibility for the details, which take time and thought. They have met every month to plan for the financial and spiritual work of the church and the protracted meeting, which was held the first of July. This meeting resulted in twenty-five additions, the return of one old backslider, who is now all on fire for the Lord's work, and the strengthening of all the Christians as well as the missionaries. Miss Armbruster now takes the lead in the women's work and has especially developed the Narayama District. Miss Garst is in charge of the kindergarten, though language study is now her principal work. In this she has the great advantage of having spent her childhood here, which makes the acquiring of the language a comparatively easy matter. We have, besides our regular church services, five Sunday-schools; two women's meetings, which meet twice each month, and the monthly Christian women's meeting, one evening children's meeting, an afternoon Bible class for girls, Girls' Christian Endeavor, boys' club, and two Loyal Temperance Legions. The women of the station call in the homes with our Bible women for Bible teaching and getting nearer to the people.

The park preaching was more successful this year than ever before. One of the best results was the request from the normal school boys, who listened, for a Bible class. This meets in the McCall home every Sunday afternoon, and gives us a hold on a very earnest lot of young men.

TOKYO.

The Tokyo work is divided into four districts, each with its missionaries, who divide the responsibility of the out-stations, though most of that falls upon Mr. Hagin.

Koishikawa is without a missionary during the furlough of Mr. and Mrs. Davey. Mr. and Mrs. Hagin have a general oversight of it, but the regular church services, three Sunday-schools, and two women's meetings are conducted by one of our oldest pastors and an efficient Bible woman. A number of inquirers are almost ready for baptism.

Hongo, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Hagin, has taken an important step forward in the opening of a new preaching place called Hakusan, which has two Sunday-schools, a meeting for women, and one preaching service. It is within the region where we hope to erect the new church pledged by Eureka Church and College, and thus will the potential force and love of Eureka reproduce and multiply itself in this great metropolis of the Orient.

Komagome-Hayashi Cho, Miss Kate Johnson's district, makes a good showing for self-support and Christian devotion. Both Miss Johnson and the pastor have had serious illness during the year, but the attendance has not failed, and the church has paid all her expenses excepting the rent for the preaching place. The Sunday-school has grown, and the children have raised the money for all their expenses. The women have met regularly every week, and by their offering of one sen each week have done much charity work. Self-support has been kept before the Christians, and many of them have made real sacrifices for the work.

Ushigome, Miss Oldham's district, includes a church, three Sunday-schools, a small day school, and Bible classes. Regular church services have been kept up, and a protracted meeting of two weeks was held in the fall. This was preceded by prayer-meetings and advertising, and resulted in a number of baptisms and a greater knowledge of the religion of Jesus Christ among the people of the district. During an enforced rest at a hot spring Miss Oldham found a former Bible student, an army officer, now pensioned because of ill-health, and acting as volunteer preacher of an independent church. Twenty members testified to the work done by him and his wife. Thus the seed bears unexpected fruit. Miss Rioch shares the mission home with Miss Oldham, devoting her time entirely to her schools and related activities, which are given under another paragraph.

Among the Tokyo out-stations, the work at Mito has been especially promising. Although it was opened only four years ago, its membership exceeds some places opened many years before. A new station, called Katsuma, has been opened. It is the terminus of a newly extended railroad, with only one Christian family besides the pastors.

INTRODUCTORY.

Looking at mission work in India as a whole, the outstanding event of the year was the holding of the Continuation Committee Conferences by Dr. John R. Mott. These conferences brought together some of the leading missionaries of almost every mission in India to discuss freely and frankly the problems, difficulties, and methods of mission work. The most important result of these conferences was the impetus they gave to the movement towards a larger inter-mission activity. They have not brought about any union of missions or churches, nor have they brought about any new federation of churches, but they have brought about the plan which is being put into execution of organizing in an efficient manner all the missions of India into provincial councils and a national council. They have also given a great impetus to the movement for inter-mission activity in certain educational lines, such as normal schools for the training of teachers and in the creating of a suitable vernacular Christian literature. These conferences and their evident results give the impression that the missions of India are preparing wisely and more unitedly than ever to meet the new conditions in India.

Some of the new conditions to be met are these: The revival of Hinduism and the effort to so present Hinduism as to make it satisfy the Indian mind and heart, thus counteracting the tendency to find satisfaction in Christianity. The national awakening, of which so much has been said and which tends to exalt everything Indian, no matter what its character; the coming of the Indian church itself to a fuller self-consciousness, and the increasing demand on the part of Indian Christians for a larger share in the management of church and mission affairs. The imperative need of developing in larger numbers highly qualified Indian leaders in the church.

In the work of our own mission there are several outstanding features in the year's history. Funds have been received for the beginning of a better equipment in buildings. On the other hand, we have suffered greatly through lack of missionaries. With our large institutional work, it is impossible to obtain the full results of our efforts when there are so few missionaries. During this year it has become more evident that our mission is taking a leading part in the preaching of the gospel in the central parts of India. Another thing is this: Most of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society missionaries in India are still young people.

The year has seen a marked growth in the missionaries—in their understanding of the people and of the problems that the missionary has to deal with, in understanding of how best to present the gospel message to the non-Christian mind, and in ability to lead and inspire others. We are also better organized for our work than before.

There are other important items, but as they are brought out in the reports of different lines of work, we will not repeat them here.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.

Bilaspur.—A large amount of good work was done this year in the villages. We did not try to reach a large number of villages, though we did reach about two hundred. Our method was to spend a week or more in one central place and work in that place and the nearby villages. We worked in twelve such camps, mostly in the eastern and northern portions of the district. Many of the villages were worked several times. The magic lantern was used, and was much appreciated. Part of the year we had six evangelists at work, and part of the year eight. One of the mission hospital assistants went with us a few times, and did good work teaching and giving medicine. Our men have this year shown a greater interest than ever before. Their interest has been increased by assigning to each certain lines of information to obtain, such as lists of inquirers, interested individuals, favorable or unfavorable villages, etc. We have thus greatly increased our knowledge of the field. Special effort was made to sell Bibles and Gospel portions.

In spite of persistent opposition by the head man of the village and some others, progress has been made in Sawatal out-station. Evangelist Kanchedi Lal and his wife have done much to prepare the way for what was accomplished. A building has been erected in which chapel, rest room, and evangelist's house are combined. This building cost seventy-five dollars, of which twenty was raised locally. The Christians in this and the other out-stations are from a very low caste, and are consequently very imperfect. It requires much time and patience to train them. The evangelist's wife carries on a school in her home for the children of the Christians. There are fifteen Christians in Sawatal, fourteen in Lata, and four in Barduli. These villages are close to one another. The people of a number of nearby villages are friendly, and we expect conversions from them soon.

The work in the village of Nipaniya has been very discouraging. Several of our Christians there have proved unfaithful and returned to caste. We have had no evangelist there during the year, but hope to locate one there soon. In the village of Pendridih four Christians have remained faithful under severe persecution. We expect more accessions in this village.

Mungeli.—The evangelistic work in Mungeli was done mostly in and about the out-stations. Dr. Miller took with him several evangelists and made a tour lasting nearly a month. He went to the north and west, where we have no out-stations. Mr. Grainger concentrated on the out-stations.

Pendridih and Jarhaganw are close together. Pendridih is the mission village. In Jarhaganw is one of our schools. In the two places together there are nearly a hundred Christians. There were six baptisms from caste there. Damaru Nichol is the evangelist, and Bhagona is the head master of the school. Both are from the Damoh orphanage, and are doing good work. There is an organized church with regular Sunday and week-day services. The burden of leading all these Christians, not only in religious matters, but in social and economic matters, falls on the missionary and the evangelist.

Barela is three miles east of Pendridih. We have a dispensary there and a school. The evangelist has been Tihari, who graduated from the Bible College a year ago. There have been four baptisms in this out-station. Regular Sunday and week-day services are held here also. There is a community, including children, of about twenty Christians. The new converts are interesting their relatives in the gospel and are bringing them to us for instruction.

Bhulan is a new out-station. A year ago the only Christians there were two teachers sent out from Mungeli. Now there are, including teachers, sixteen adult Christians, besides children. They have begun to have regular Sunday and week-day services. Work was begun in Bhulan many years ago. It is a place difficult to reach, and certain difficulties led to the closing of the out-stations for some years. Mr. Rioch opened it again before leaving Mungeli, and this year has seen the fruit of the work. The converts are hard-working farmers who promise to develop into sturdy Christian characters.

There have been several converts in Mungeli itself, making a total of twenty-five for the year. Including the services at the leper asylums, the Lord's Supper is celebrated at six different places in and about Mungeli every Lord's day.

Damoh.—Lack of workers has greatly interfered with the evangelistic work in Damoh. Mr. Alexander entered upon the year's work enthusiastically, with a definite plan and a belief that the people can be won if we persist in our propaganda. However, institutional work so interfered with his plans that it was impossible to give the unreserved attention that this kind of work requires.

With four evangelists, Mr. Alexander has worked a territory within a radius of twenty miles from Damoh. Two hundred villages have been reached. A large amount of work was done in the town of Damoh itself. The people welcomed the message. It has taken hold of many hearts who are coming to have some appreciation of the Christ.

The baptisms during the year number seven, and six of these were from the Christian community. One has given up all and become an outcast from his people to become a follower of Jesus. It takes much leavening work to lift these caste groups. We hope in time to so work among them that whole groups will become Christian. Then they will be able to protect each other in persecution to carry on their social life and arrange for the marriage of their children within their own communities.

Mr. Alexander has now been relieved of all institutional work so that he may give his undivided attention to the church and evangelistic work.

Harda.—The effort this year has been to make the work intensive rather than extensive. In all, two hundred and forty villages have been visited, some of them many times. A special effort has been made to sell Gospels and tracts, and this has perhaps been the best year we have had in this particular department of the work. The people seem more willing to buy Christian literature than ever before.

With very few exceptions the evangelists were well received in the villages. They report a number of inquirers. We feel much encouraged at the friendly attitude of the people and the interest some are taking in the gospel message. We are hoping and praying that we may soon see some visible results from this work.

Jubbulpore.—Evangelistic work in Jubbulpore is carried on along two lines, namely, city work and district work. At present we have two young men located in Jubbulpore who devote their whole time for a large part of the year to evangelistic work in the city. Part of the time is spent in visiting at their homes or places of business persons who may be influenced towards Christianity. Some time is spent in bazaar preaching. The evangelists and the students of the Bible College do street preaching two afternoons each week. In addition to this, several religious fairs are attended.

During the past winter Mr. MacDougall, who has the oversight of the evangelistic work in the station, spent between two and three months in the district. All our evangelists and some of our students were with Mr. MacDougall. They preached in many villages and sold a large number of tracts. In some places their reception was good, but in other places they could scarcely get a hearing. One trouble was that the people, who are very ignorant, feared that the party might introduce plague into their villages. Most of the people of the district are Animists and their worship is of a very low type. The field is practically a new one, yet the people are of a type found responsive to the gospel in other parts of India.

EDUCATIONAL.

Bible College.—Dr. Brown, Mr. MacDougall, and Miss Franklin have, with two native assistants, carried on the work of the Bible College. This year there will be two graduates, and two others who have completed a shorter course will also go to their fields. Jubbulpore, like most of the cities of India, is not a fruitful field for evangelistic work, but it is becoming one of the more important mission centers of India where workers are being trained in many ways to go out and labor in fields which yield better returns.

During the year our hearts were made glad by the receipt of money from home for the building of dormitories for the students of the Bible College. We have been needing these ever since the Bible College was opened, and have again and again made appeals for them, but not until this year has it been possible to answer our call. We began building as soon as the money was in hand, and already one row of buildings is completed. We are now working on the foundations of another line of dormitories.

We have also expanded in other lines in the matter of property. During the year the mission purchased a second bungalow and compound. These were very badly needed, as we owned but a single compound. One which we had rented for a number of years was acquired by the Government, and we felt that a great injury had been done our work. But in the providence of God we were enabled at once to buy another compound which suits our work better than did the old one, which we were compelled to vacate. It is on this new compound that our newest line of dormitories is being erected. Besides the bungalow, which the missionaries will occupy, there is also a cottage, which will be occupied by the manager of the press. The compound and buildings require some improvement and changes, but we are deeply grateful to those whose generosity made it possible for us to thus equip our work.

High School.—Mr. Eicher has carried on the work of the Harda High School. The average enrollment for the year was 222, an increase of forty-one over the previous year. The large increase in the amount of fees collected from students, together with the Government grant, has reduced the cost of the school to the mission to about fifteen per cent of the total expenditure.

There has been considerable difficulty in keeping an efficient teaching staff. The mission does not pay as high salaries as are received by teachers in Government schools, hence there is dissatisfaction and a constant dropping out of men who get Government positions. The end of the year, however, finds us with a better qualified staff than at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Eicher has taught the Bible daily to the four high school classes. This is the most difficult and at the same time the most delightful task in the whole work of the school. These young men are the brightest of the community, from the best Hindu and Mohammedan families. They are keen and critical. They watch every opportunity to raise an objection or ask a question. While there are moments of discouragement at the indifference or even hostility of a few towards the Bible, yet the interest taken by almost all and the evident development in things spiritual in the students enables one to do the work with enthusiasm. This development was especially evident in opinions expressed by the students in essays written as part of their final examinations.

Our greatest drawback is lack of room for our classes, so we are rejoicing at the prospect of a new high school building. So far we have not been able to get the building under way, as legal complications have hindered us from getting a clear title to the land chosen. It is practically the only available piece of land. It is owned jointly by several parties who, not being able to agree among themselves, have the land in the courts. We shall have to wait for the Government to acquire it for us. The wheels of the Indian Government turn very slowly.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

Harda.—Mr. Eicher carries, in connection with the high school, a boys' primary school of about 190 boys. There are five other primary schools in Harda, with a total enrollment of 290, of whom 136 are girls. Miss Stella Franklin is in charge of these schools. She says, "We are encouraged by the increased interest shown in the education of the girls." She has even induced some Mohammedan girls to form a class in connection with the school for Mohammedan boys. Much work has been done in preparing Christian teachers to teach the language used by Mohammedans.

Two of these primary schools are for low caste children. This work is extremely difficult, as the low caste people take no interest in the education of their children. Those children who do enter the schools are soon taken out and put to work. However, after leaving the school these young people remain under the influence of the mission, and so a way is opened up for the evangelist.

The attendance at the girls' school has increased. The interest of the people in the education of their girls is slowly increasing, yet bright girls of ten and eleven are regularly taken out of school by their Hindu parents to be married.

Miss Franklin says: "Our Bible work this year has been the best and most systematic of any yet. Regular lessons are planned for each grade, and each teacher knows what he is to teach and how he is to teach it. Stories from the life of Christ, the life of Joseph, and from the Exodus are taught in the infant and first grades. In the second grade the pupils read Luke. In the third and fourth grades the pupils read the life of Christ in the four Gospels. In an entertainment at the close of the school year several little children told in order the Bible stories they had learned. Then a fourth-grade girl, standing by the map of Palestine and pointing out the places named, told all the incidents of the life of Christ from the beginning up to the incident of the woman at the well in Samaria. This is as far as the class had gone at that time.

Bilaspur.—Mr. Sherman has conducted four schools in and near Bilaspur. An English school was opened in connection with the Bilaspur town school, but at the end of the year the results were such that it was deemed wiser to discontinue the English and, in place of it, open higher classes in the vernacular. This has been done. The school at Masturi had to be discontinued, as Christian teachers were not available and it was not thought wise to continue the school with non-Christian teachers. The school at Dorki has prospered. Its head master is a good Christian man. An outbreak of Asiatic cholera, which spread throughout the Bilaspur District, greatly interfered with the work of the schools.

In August a sweeper boy was admitted to the Bilaspur school. In five minutes after his admission every Hindu and Mohammedan boy had left the school. We were not able to fight it out, as the sweeper boy returned to the school he came from. When he left all the others returned.

The enlargement of our school building, which was granted last year, is nearly finished and will add six good rooms to the building.

Mungeli.—Mr. Grainger has directed the work of the Mungeli schools. There are five schools, with an enrollment of nearly five hundred. These are all primary schools. These schools have a number of Christian children in them. Of the non-Christian children, while there are some of high caste, the majority are of low caste. Epidemics of smallpox and cholera have interfered with the work of the schools, yet the quality of work has kept up to the average. Special attention has been given to Bible teaching and to the better training of the teachers for their work. Bhagawan Das, head master of the school at Jarhaganw, has made a great improvement in his school and gives daily normal lessons to the other teachers of the school.

The building for the Bhulan school was ready in June last year. It is a mud building with a tile roof, costing altogether $50. It is very poor accommodation, yet it is the best we could do. In this building we have eighty pupils doing good work. Through the influence of this school a number of people in the village have been baptized. A few mud houses have been erected in Bhulan, in which the teachers may live. The work in this school has been difficult, but fruitful.

In August of this year Miss Stella Franklin is to come and take charge of these schools, and under her direction they will be greatly developed.

Damoh.—Mr. and Mrs. Alexander conducted the school work in Damoh during this year. In the Boys' Orphanage school eight boys finished the course and were given certificates entitling them to enter high school. They will, however, not enter high school. Five have been settled as teachers in the schools of the mission, and one will enter a hospital to learn medical work. Two of the eight were non-Christian boys of the town. During the year eight or ten other boys left the school to go into training for some trade. Some went to the Mission Press, at Jubbulpore, to learn printing. Others entered the mission workshop at Damoh.

Aside from the orphanage school, two schools for non-Christians are carried on in the town. One is for girls and one for boys. The girls' school was managed for part of the year by Miss Clarke, and for the rest of the year by Miss Griffith. Mrs. Alexander looked after the boys' school. This boys' school is for low caste children. There are hundreds of low caste children in the town. They are not admitted to the Government schools, so their only opportunity is what they get from the mission. The mission school building is a little hut, accommodating about twenty boys on the inside, and about twenty more on the veranda when it does not rain. The girls' school also has very poor accommodation. Buildings are badly needed for these schools.

Jubbulpore.—There is one day school for non-Christian girls in Jubbulpore. This has been managed by Miss Franklin. There is also a small school for Christian children. The school for non-Christians is at Barela, an out-station of Jubbulpore. Two evangelists are stationed there, and their wives teach in the school. This school has an enrollment of forty-four. The girls have had thorough instruction in the Bible. The school for Christian children was held at the mission bungalow for the children of our Christian community. Mrs. Brown managed it, and the teaching was done by a Christian woman. Most of its work is kindergarten and primary.

MEDICAL WORK.

Harda.—Dr. and Mrs. Drummond have carried on the Harda medical work. Dr. Drummond carries on the work at the hospital and dispensary, and Mrs. Drummond does much work among the Christian families, who, most of them, live at a long distance from the hospital. A great deal of work is done at the missionary home, and Mrs. Drummond assists in this. Many emergency cases are brought direct to the missionary home: scorpion bites, lockjaw, demon-possession, broken limbs, men or children torn by wild beasts, scalded or burned babies—all sorts of cases. Mrs. Drummond attends the hospital in the absence of Dr. Drummond.

The gospel has been preached regularly at the dispensary, and the in-patients have had regular instruction in the Bible. A young man, an in-patient, expressed a desire to become a Christian, but changed his mind. However, we have hopes that he will yet accept Christ.

It is a delight to be able to heal and preach to the people, but there are cases that sadden us. Such are the cases that come too late. Persons are often brought to us with eyesight gone, either through neglect or through improper treatment. They come thinking we can restore sight to the blind under any condition whatever. Sometimes they bring us cases of deformity caused by dislocation or fracture that was not attended to at the time of occurrence. When asked how long it is since the accident occurred, they will answer, "a year" or "two years." It is then too late to do anything. Sometimes they come so reduced in strength by their disease that nothing can be done. When we ask what treatment they have had, they say, "We have done whatever any one told us to do; we have come to you as a last resort."

We have been greatly disappointed that our new hospital is not ready for use at this time. The contractor promised to have it ready by November, 1912, but he disappointed us. The building is now nearing completion, and we hope soon to occupy it.

Damoh.—Dr. McGavran has carried on the Damoh medical work. The Damoh hospital has been open all the year and the work has been regular. Each year we reach more people. This year we have followed out the plan of spending as much time as possible in the villages about Damoh. Fifty-two short trips among the villages were made. As most of this work had to be done in the cool season, it meant two and three such trips a week. Dr. MacGavran, with one of her assistants, visited two outposts nearly every week. Other places were visited less frequently.

The medical work has co-operated with the evangelists in their tours, and they have been able often to get a hearing through finding persons that have been in the hospital, and Miss Clarke, in her zenana work, has been able to bring many suffering women to the doctor.

There were more than twenty thousand treatments during the year, and during August, September, and October the daily average was over one hundred. At these rush times we were assisted by the evangelists, who came to preach to the patients. The Indian assistants do a great deal of the work, but the doctor in charge gets to know almost every one of the patients personally.

There was almost no plague at all in Damoh this year. Yet we had one pitiful case of a father and child, who were found ill of plague, lying in a hut alone. They were found too late to save them. There was a very severe epidemic of smallpox. One of our patients became a Christian.

The hospital is well located, and is drawing patients from the whole of the town and from all parts of the district.

Mungeli.—Our medical work is philanthropic, evangelistic, and educational. From the philanthropic standpoint, from the standpoint of relieving suffering and the restoration of health, that people may be able to live in comfort and do their proper work in the world, the Mungeli hospital has done a great work during the year. Dr. Miller devoted his whole time to this hospital. While there is a Government hospital in the town, it reaches very few people. The poor and the low caste man are not welcome. In our hospital every one can get careful, sympathetic treatment. Our two dispensaries, one at Mungeli and one at Barela, have been busy all the time.

From the evangelistic standpoint also good work has been done. Every patient has heard the preaching of the gospel, and many of them have heard many times. Dr. Miller has exerted a great influence in villages where he has been called to treat special cases. Dhansai, the Indian doctor at Barela, has been assisted in the evangelistic part of the work by our evangelist, Tihari. At Mungeli the influence of our Indian doctor, Hira Lal, has been very great. He never misses an opportunity to talk of religion to his patients, and his splendid personality wins every one with whom he has to do. This year a number of the patients in the hospital have been baptized.

The effort to educate the people to better ways of living, to have sanitary surroundings, to eat proper food, and to take proper care of their health, bears fruit very slowly. It is impossible to get illiterate people to understand the scientific standpoint in these things. They cling to their old ideas. Our only hope in this line is to work with the children.

ZENANA WORK.

The mission has a standing committee on zenana work. This committee has succeeded in organizing the work in a manner not thought possible some time ago. It tries to get the mission to put a lady for zenana work in every station, who shall give her whole time to this work. It has prepared a course of study for Christian women in general and Bible women in particular, and has organized the Christian Women's Society. The course of study has been in operation about two years. While the main subjects for study are Biblical, yet such subjects as rearing of children, sanitation, non-Christian religions, etc., are taught. Twenty women took the first year's examination, all but two of whom passed. Some non-Christians are taking the course, and one passed the examination.

In Harda the zenana work has gone on regularly. Miss Thompson is in charge. Over one hundred homes are regularly visited, but transfers and deaths have made the number of pupils taught less than before. Mrs. Shah has done a great deal of voluntary work. Other Christian women offered to care for her children while she went out with Miss Thompson for work. Zenana work was carried on in nearly thirty villages near Harda. Great interest in this work has been shown by the village women.

In Bilaspur the zenana work is carried on by the missionaries of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. Mrs. Sherman has, however, assisted in it. In Damoh, Miss Clarke, for the whole year, and Miss Griffith, for part of the year, did zenana work. Mrs. Alexander did work among the village women when on tour with Mr. Alexander. These village women were very friendly, but their extreme ignorance makes the work very difficult. It takes a long time to get them to understand the message of the gospel.

In Mungeli, Mrs. Grainger worked among the Christian women as much as her home duties would permit, but it has not been possible to have any regular zenana work in the station. This is one of the great needs of Mungeli. Miss Stella Franklin is to come to Mungeli soon, and will be able to give some time to work among the Christian women. This will be a great help, but there is great need of a lady to give full time to work among non-Christian women. Some one has said that it took the missionary societies many years to realize that half the non-Christian world is made up of women. The mission certainly has not done its duty along this line in Mungeli.

In Jubbulpore all our lady missionaries have done more or less work among women. Mrs. Brown has looked after the home life and the physical welfare of the Christian women and their families. This is really a large task. It is especially so as many of the women are students in the Bible College, and it is desired that they should form proper habits in their home life before they go out into regular work as leaders in the different Christian communities. The zenana work proper has been in the charge of Miss Franklin. She writes: "The zenana work in Jubbulpore is peculiar, as it is carried on chiefly in connection with the training of the women students of the Bible College. While the mission has carried on zenana work here from the very beginning of its work, yet as there has been no missionary to go out daily with the women the results have not been all that could be desired. Owing to other work, Miss Franklin can go out only occasionally. Mrs. MacDougall went out twice a week for months, and Miss Killoway, our zenana assistant, has gone with the women every day. Our Indian women workers in Jubbulpore are weak in that they are not trained, but are really young girls in training. While they are all married women, yet they are all less than twenty-five years of age. They have come from orphanages and know nothing by actual experience of conditions among non-Christians. I had a special class in the Bible College to teach these women how to present the message to different classes of women, such as Hindus and Mohammedans. We endeavor to persuade the women in the zenanas to buy copies of the Gospels. We found that when they had heard a gospel story that really interested them they were willing to buy. The point in emphasizing book study is that most of the women learn to read some, and when the lessons are all in one Gospel they know where to find them, and read them over and over.

Miss Killoway had more than sixty women on her zenana list. Miss Jackson has now been appointed to do zenana work in Jubbulpore.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S SOCIETY.

This society was the outcome of the systematic work of the Zenana Committee of the mission. In our various stations classes for Indian Christian women have always been held, but according to the desire and opportunity of the lady missionaries of the station. Two years ago, at the recommendation of the Zenana Committee, the Mission, in order to show the value it attaches to such classes, passed a resolution that we should endeavor to have a Christian Women's Society in every station. The object of this was threefold: (1) To raise the standards of life among the Christian women. (2) To have a class in which the Bible women may go on with their studies. (3) To so train the Christian women generally that by precept and example they may uplift the non-Christian women about them. These classes now exist in most of our stations.

Miss Thompson has conducted these classes in Harda throughout the year. One woman took the examination given at the end of the course. In the examination for one subject she did not appear, so did not get her promotion card. Mrs. Sherman, of Bilaspur, writes: "I have had charge of the Christian Women's Society during the last year. My class taking the three years' course met weekly. In October four women took the first year's examination and passed well. I am very much pleased with the interest shown by the women in these meetings. My women are all Bible women who work five or six hours every day, but they all come promptly to the meetings and seem eager to learn and fit themselves for the work. I have visited other women in their homes, particularly the poor and ignorant, and have tried to teach and help them." Mrs. Alexander superintends this work in Damoh. She says: "In comparison with the village women and other non-Christians, our most ignorant Christians seem quite cultured. One day while I was having my class a village woman came and sat down with the others. We were having a lesson from the conversion of Paul. The Christian women understood very well, but this village woman kept saying, 'I can't understand what you are saying.' After the class was over, I said, 'I must go home and get dinner for the sahib.' The face of the village woman lit up, and she said, 'Now you are speaking plainly; I understand that.' I had entered into her world of thought." In Jubbulpore this class was looked after by Miss Franklin. As the women there were mostly of the students in the Bible College, a more ambitious line and plan of study was carried out. Several subcommittees were formed, and papers were written on suitable subjects.

THE CHURCHES.

Our churches continue to develop. As our Christian communities grow in size the burden of leading and developing them in the Christian life becomes greater and greater. Our churches are made up almost entirely of young people. Our assistants in the Mission are very largely young people who, since they have not had the seasoning of many years' experience, can not carry alone this load of the pastoral care of the church. The few older men we have are faithful and show their value by the efforts they make to lead the church. Much, however, still falls to the missionary. Especially is this true in Bilaspur and Mungeli, where we have large communities of village Christians. A failure to properly train and teach our converts would result in an evil report of the church that would make evangelistic work fruitless.

Mr. Saum, in the Bilaspur work, has given special attention to the effort to develop the Christian community, and also the Indian mission workers, so that the church shall have a good report and that evangelistic work may be carried on through the church. In Mungeli much has been accomplished in developing the Indian leaders by making them responsible through a church council for all discipline and all management of church affairs. This church council, however, had to be led by the missionary.

The churches are slowly learning liberality. The offerings were especially good in Bilaspur. The missionary society of our Indian church has been liberally supported. This missionary society is developing leaders.

SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

There are several kinds of Sunday-schools in the mission. Some are for educated Christians and their children. These most nearly correspond to the Sunday-school in America. There are Sunday-schools in connection with our day schools. These are attended mostly by non-Christians. Then, there are Sunday-schools held in towns and villages where there are no day schools. These are usually held on Sunday, but very often, for lack of time on Sunday, the missionary will hold the school on a week-day. Then, there is the weekly class for the non-Christian servants of the missionary or the mission. These are all ignorant, menial servants. In Sunday-schools for Christians or for non-Christians who attend day schools the international lessons are usually taught, and many of the pupils take the India Sunday-school Examination. In other Sunday-schools the missionary takes gospel lessons adapted to the needs of the pupils and ignores the international series of lessons. It is hoped that the Sunday School Union will soon prepare a course of graded lessons for the Sunday-schools.

In Harda there are fifteen Sunday-schools, carried on in four different languages. The Sunday-school for Christians is held at a time when all can come from the other schools and attend it. It is attended by practically the whole Christian community. In Jubbulpore there are eight Sunday-schools, one for the Christians and the rest for non-Christians. In Bilaspur there are nine schools. In Mungeli there are three Sunday-schools for Christians and three for non-Christians. In Damoh there are eight schools.

Every missionary and almost all of the Indian helpers teach in our Sunday-schools. Regular classes are held for the teachers to prepare them for teaching the lesson on Sunday. The Indians like Sunday-schools. Indeed, it is much easier to keep up the attendance at the Sunday-school than at the regular church services. The Sunday-school method seems to be more in line with Indian ideas than the Western order of church service. The importance of this phase of our work in the training and instruction of young people especially for the Christian life, and the non-Christians for entering the church, can not be overestimated.

The Indian Sunday School Union offered a shield to the school in our mission which had the best work. This was won by the central school at Bilaspur.

REPORT OF THE DAMOH BOYS' ORPHANAGE FOR 1912-13.

In April, 1912, at the request of the mission, we again took charge of the Boys' Orphanage work. Most of the boys had been under our care before, and also as the work was being carried on in the same general lines as when we were here, it did not take long to get into the run of things.

The same staff, with the exception of the house father, has been retained during the year. Alfred Allappa, in addition to his duties as buyer, has taken on the work of house father.

During the year eight boys have been received, and seventy-one have gone out, as follows: settled, forty-four; ran away, sixteen; died, nine; dismissed, two. The number of boys settled is large, this being due to the great number who had reached manhood and who had become discontented. They were placed out in positions as opportunity arose. Most of those who ran away were boys who had expressed a desire to go, but for whom we could not at the moment find positions of the kind they desired.

The day school for the boys continued under Mr. Alexander's care until just about the close of the year, when Miss Josepha Franklin was asked by the mission to take charge and thus let Mr. Alexander free for evangelistic work.

The workshop has had a good year. Every class of work has been turned out by the workmen and the boys: carpentry, cabinet making, blacksmithing, and leather work. Considerable over 2,000 rupees have been received, and our accounts show a balance to the good. Furniture has been made and shipped to all parts. We have had more work than we could do. Some of our best work has been done by the boys, two of whom have developed into workmen much above the average.

The boys in the tailoring class have made all the clothes worn by the boys, besides making up all the clothes for those who have gone out.

The farm, under the care of our assistant, Mr. Brown, has done well. The crops sown were rice, corn, gram, peanuts, wheat, and linseed. The long-continued rains hurt our corn, and washed out a lot of our peanuts; otherwise the harvest was good. We had some of the finest looking wheat I have ever seen. Produce from the farm and garden to the value of about 1,650 rupees was harvested.

Owing to so many of our large boys being settled, the labor problem on the farm has become acute. The coming year will see us quite handicapped for want of labor, but the most trying part of this work is guarding the fields at night from the ravages of wild animals. We do hope the money for the fencing will be soon sent, as we can not place our small boys on this night work.

We are negotiating with the Government, asking for the privilege of settling our boys on this land. We hope to thus build up a good, strong farm and village community. For the coming year we hope to give the larger boys, who work all day, a share in the crops, which will no doubt help them to take a keener interest in the care and working of the fields.

In the fruit orchard we have had a good crop of guavas, papaiyas, and mulberries, and in our garden all kinds of vegetables have been raised, both for food for the boys and for sale. In the garden the lack of labor is severely felt.

The health of the boys has been fair. We have had some anxious times. There were two outbreaks of dysentery among the small boys, and this carried off five of them. Three died from fever, and one of consumption. For the first time we have had mumps among the boys, but with the exception of making them look a little stouter there have been no apparent evil effects. Then, there have been the usual coughs, colds, wounds, bruises, headaches, and stomach-aches, real and otherwise, all as natural to a boy as his breath.

At Christmas the boys set up a tree, and our children, David and Janet, helped them by lending their own Christmas-tree candles and Chinese lanterns. The tree when lit up was quite attractive, and the lads did enjoy it. They had set it up outside, and had marked out the ground for the people to sit, and with whitewash had written in English and in Hindi a Christmas greeting.

Every boy received a present of sweets and a nice, soft, warm scarf. On Christmas day there was the usual big dinner, where the lads showed what a boy can do when he really tries. Owing to illness and other causes, our annual boys' camp was delayed, but we made it up to them by staying a few days longer. This year the boys certainly had a big time. Our camp was pitched in a most beautiful spot on the bank of a fine river, with lots of water, and at our back in all directions stretched the great, wild, dense jungle teeming with game. Not a day passed but the whole camp got all the meat from the jungle they could eat—peafowl, black buck, wild boar, wild sheep, and the huge sambaur. The boys declared they never had such a camp, but it is with these boys as with all others: the last is always the best.

The spiritual life of the boys has been given special attention. Years ago when the boys came to us first the Bible with its truths was new and so very interesting. Somehow, after many years of hearing it and daily being taught its lessons, some of this interest seemed to have worn off. We found a number of the lads who had gotten indifferent and felt they knew it all. The great problem we are having to face is to keep from too much preaching at them and to try by kindness and example to keep them in the path of true devotion, to endeavor to show them what are the real, the first, and the essential things in life. During the past winter our boy David has had a strong influence for good among the boys of his own age. He has led them in play and has had them about him in the evenings instructing them in the Boy Scout principles, and by his insistence on good conduct being the first requisite to join the band, has helped a number of the boys to get into a better walk.

As the real trials and difficulties of a work of this nature have all been reported to the Captain of the Way, we would close this very brief report with the plea that you will intercede in behalf of all missionaries.

THE MISSION PRESS.

A new building for the Press has been erected during the year and has been occupied. The old building was burned down on the night of November 9, 1911. Fire caught in the roof, which was of thatch. We had been trying for some time to secure a grant from home to put on a less dangerous roof, and had hopes that this might soon be realized. We had also tried to insure, but the insurance company refused to take the risk. As soon as possible after the old building burned down, we began the erection of a new building. This building was completed and occupied by March 1st. It is an excellent building, especially adapted to press work, and is practically fireproof.

The work of the press was naturally very much hampered by the fire. Our periodical publications, though—the Christian Sahayak and the Sunday-school Leaflet, as well as the work we do for the Christian Endeavor Society—were all issued regularly in spite of the fire, for though we suffered much loss, we were still able to do some work. We are just now getting the press into good shape again for work, and expect to do much more in the future than we have in the past. We have decided to place a competent manager in charge and thus relieve the missionary of any detailed responsibility in the press. We believe he can do enough job work to earn his salary, so that the mission will lose nothing by the change. We have several books in press, but they will not be completed until after the end of the year under report. I may add that our periodical literature has made a permanent place for itself, and that we expect it to grow as time goes on.

INTER-MISSION ACTIVITIES.

The amount of work done by missions acting together is steadily increasing. Any mission not taking its share of this union work becomes isolated and is apt to be left behind in the onward march of the church. This type of work falls for the most part on those missionaries who live in the larger cities, yet many others have a share in it.

Our summer school was this year made use of by several missions. The organization of this summer school and the delivery of a course of lectures on Mohammedanism fell to G. W. Brown. O. J. Grainger also gave a course of addresses on the "Life of Mohammed." G. W. Brown also gave a course of lectures in a summer school conducted by the Friends' Mission. The subject of the lectures was the "Arya Somaj." Mr. Brown was also secretary and organizer of the Mid-India Convention for the Deepening of the Spiritual Life. Both Mr. Brown and Mr. Grainger gave daily addresses at this convention. One of Dr. Mott's Continuation Committee Conferences was held at Jubbulpore. The organization of this conference and the carrying out of all arrangements for it was the work of G. W. Brown, who attended the National Conference at Calcutta also.

G. W. Brown has also given much time to the revision of the Hindi version of the Old Testament. He is not only one of the revisers, but is also editorial secretary to the Revision Committee, and it falls to him to read proofs and get the work through the press. Some other literary work has been done. The Misses Franklin, Miss Thompson, and Mr. Grainger have assisted in the preparation of material for the Hindi paper, the Christian Sahayak. Mr. Brown's book in Hindi, on the "Mohammedan World," has been accepted by the Book and Tract Society, and will probably be published during the coming year. Mr. Grainger's book on the "Life of Muhammad" is in press and will be published very soon. This book is in Hindi.

A number of our missionaries assist in the work of the India Sunday School Union. A number of our missionaries undertook the drudgery of grading the hundreds of answer papers in Hindi that came in from the annual Sunday-school examination. Miss Josepha Franklin and Mr. Brown have been members of the Central Committee of the Sunday School Union. Miss Franklin translated the examination questions into Hindi, arranged for the grading of papers, and published the results of the examination. The missionaries of India have long desired that a series of graded Bible lessons be prepared suited to the needs and conditions of Indian Sunday-schools. Early in 1912 Miss Franklin was made chairman of a committee of the Sunday School Union to make inquiries as to the need of such a series of lessons and as to the desires of the missionaries in India in the matter. Correspondence was opened with missionaries in all parts of India, and early in 1913 Miss Franklin made a digest of the replies to the inquiries sent out. This was read before a commission sent to India by the British Sunday School Union. The report showed such an overwhelming majority of the missionaries in favor of the scheme that arrangements were made to prepare a course of graded lessons.

Miss Franklin conducted a weekly class for Bible women, which was attended by the zenana workers of all four missions in Jubbulpore. She was also president of the Jubbulpore Young Woman's Christian Association.

Mr. Saum has, in Bilaspur, given time to work as a member of the Municipal Board, and finds that he is able to exercise a Christian influence in its workings. He was secretary of the Chattisgarh Missionary Association and helped to promote inter-mission fellowship in this way.

THE MISSIONARIES.

At the beginning of the year Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Benlehr, and Miss Fleming went on furlough. Dr. Miller also went on furlough. In December Miss Griffith returned to Damoh from her furlough. There has been no serious illness among the missionaries, but the extra burdens imposed by the shortage of workers has shown its effect in the general health of some. Dr. Drummond especially shows the effects of the strain. Three Christian Woman's Board of Missions missionaries are assisting in the work of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society stations—Mr. and Mrs. MacDougall and Miss Jackson—while two Foreign Christian Missionary Society missionaries are in return assisting in the work of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. These are Miss Clarke and Miss Griffith.

Tabular View of the India Mission.

There have been a few transfers of missionaries. These were necessitated by the going on furlough of some. Two changes were made so as to release men from institutional work that they might give full time to evangelistic work.

Mr. Rioch went from Mungeli to Damoh to take charge of the orphanage when Mr. Benlehr went on furlough. Mr. Grainger went from Jubbulpore to Mungeli. Miss Clarke went from Damoh to Kulpahar, and Miss Griffith from Damoh to Bilaspur. Miss Josepha Franklin went from Jubbulpore to Damoh to take charge of the school work, thus releasing Mr. Alexander for full time itinerary work in the district. If we had more workers there would not be the need of so many changes. We wish that the home churches could fully realize our situation and the results of the great lack of workers. It is resulting in frequent changes of location, which is undesirable. It is undermining the health of missionaries, and is hindering the efficient execution of our work. Next year three missionaries go on furlough, and it will be very difficult to fill their places. One missionary will return from furlough, and two new men are coming out. The new men will give their time to language study, while there remains one man to fill these three vacancies. Hatta station remains temporarily closed for lack of men. There is no physician to take Dr. Miller's work.

NANKING.

As we review the work of the station for the year we have every reason for profound gratitude to our Heavenly Father. Every branch of the work has increased except the hospital work, and its growth has been retarded only on account of lack of funds. This is because changed conditions and Dr. Macklin's health make it impossible for him to earn the necessary money as formerly.

PROGRESS OF UNION.

That work for which we as a people have worked and prayed for a century has made tremendous strides during the past year. The Union Nurses' School, representing four missions, which has been established several years, has continued. The Bible College, also having four missions working in it, is having the Southern Methodists added to the union. In local work our Women's Bible Training School has been united with the Presbyterians. In the advanced work for Bible training for women we have joined with six other missions of the Yangtsze Valley. The Language School for new missionaries, representing nine missions and as many provinces, has been opened as a department of the University of Nanking. The East China Medical School, representing seven missions and having for its field the entire Yangtsze Valley, has become a permanent part of the university.

The firm opinion of the missionaries in China, as expressed by the Mott conference and the Medical Missionary Association, is that the supreme need of medical missions in China is trained Christian Chinese physicians, and that the establishment of a few first-class union medical colleges is the only method by means of which this end may be attained.

The University of Nanking has had the most successful year of its history. In fact, all the educators of Central China are so impressed by it that definite action has been taken to combine all the educational interests of the three provinces, Kiangsu, Anhwei, and Fukien, having colleges only where really needed, the University of Nanking to be the center for higher educational work. Thus a large number of men at present doing duplicate work in various colleges would be released, and a great saving of funds and increase in efficiency would be effected.

The proposed scheme will soon go home for the ratification of the mission boards.

Definite steps have also been taken toward opening a women's college for the whole Yangtsze Valley.

These great accomplishments in union are a call to us as a people, and should be a great incentive to immediate and continuous activity, for if we do not have able men and women now, those who are leaders among leaders, to participate in all these movements, the very creations which our plea has in large measure brought forth must suffer for want of our experience in union leadership. In other words, we are or should be experts on union, having the benefit of a century of thought on that line. Shall we not give to all these movements a sufficient quota of men and women to direct their policy? The opportunity of a century has come to us in a great nation whose church in its formative period wants union. Shall we meet it?

The fact that the Disciples of Christ propose to endow the chair of Religious Instruction in the university is a clear indication that our people will not be behind in this great onward step in the interest of the unity of God's people.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Day Schools.—Two girls' day schools have been added, both of which are self-supporting. There are 143 girls in our five day schools, as against sixty-five in three schools last year. There are 338 boys in our seven day and night schools, as against 186 last year. All these students are doing systematic graded work, and more are coming into the church than ever before. They have their student Christian Endeavor and Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and are being trained for Christian work. If we had the teachers and equipment, the amount of work that could be done in this line is almost limitless.

Girls' Boarding School.—Here, as in the girls' day schools, the enrollment has more than doubled. One hundred and fifty were enrolled in the year. The work also has been more efficient. In December six girls graduated from the normal course, five from the high school, three from the intermediate, and sixteen from the primary.

Mrs. Settlemyer has had charge of the music, and is doing splendid work in that department. Mrs. Sarvis, Mrs. Baker, Miss Palmer, and Mrs. Harper have helped in the English teaching at different times during the year, but the responsibilities of this big school family, with its heart and head problems, have fallen on Miss Lyon, and they are too many for any one woman to bear.

The spiritual growth of the girls has been good. The older Christian girls teach in Sunday-schools and hold meetings for women. The early morning Bible classes have been most helpful. Eleven girls have been baptized during the year, and there are sixteen inquirers.

The changes in China have caused a different attitude toward the education of girls. More girls are coming into our schools than we can accommodate; the Chinese are asking us for trained teachers for their Government schools. We now need two more ladies for this school, that we may prepare teachers for these openings. China will become a Christian nation when her mothers are Christian.

The University of Nanking.—The progress of the Union University has been very encouraging. The number of students enrolled during the year exceeded four hundred, with an average attendance of about that number. This, in view of the fact of the re-opening of the Government schools, would indicate that there is no lack of demand for the work of mission schools. The mission has been represented in this work by Messrs. Meigs, Settlemyer, and Sarvis, besides Mr. Alexander Y. Lee, who is employed by the university. The fourth regular representative now due according to recent arrangements has not yet been appointed. Mr. Meigs has had charge of his regular department of Religious Instruction, and has been principal of the Middle School and had general oversight of the Language School. Besides this, he has been the agent of the university in buying land to complete the proposed campus. This work is now nearly completed. The campus will contain about seventy acres. Mr. Settlemyer returned from furlough in time for the spring term, and has been doing full work in his department (History and Political Science), besides directing the athletics of the Middle School. Mr. Sarvis has given courses in his department (Sociology and Economics), besides helping in the regular religious work in the Middle School. He has given the greater part of his time to the study of the language.

As the Union University is still in the early days of its development, there are many things not yet brought up to the most satisfactory condition, but progress is being made all along the line. We lack men and money, especially the latter. New departments should be opened, and those we have should be made more efficient if we are to fully meet the demand upon us. It may, however, safely be said that the institution has passed beyond the experimental stage.

The point at which there was most apprehension has been reached and passed without trouble of any kind. Nearly one hundred of the students united with the church during the year. There has been absolute peace and harmony among all who have had a part in the work of the school. The most pressing need of our work just now is a man to take charge of the Middle School as a life work. It would be a wise step for our Society to send such a man.

Women's Bible Training School.—The object of this school is to train women as Bible women and helpers. Seventeen have been enrolled during the year, six being boarders. The fact that we have just consummated a union of this school with the Presbyterians is a cause for profound thankfulness. On account of insufficient help, Miss Kelly has been obliged to suppress the growth of this school, but since Miss Snyder is on the field, she hopes to receive women from all the stations who show promise of developing into good Bible helpers.

Bible College.—This school has grown in enrollment from sixty-six to ninety. The upper grade work, open only to college graduates, is attracting students faster than the lower grade.

Frank Garrett has, as usual, had the Old Testament department. Since October he has been acting president, and has been teaching Apologetics and Hermeneutics. The students in this school preach on Sundays wherever they are sent, and give the entire summer vacation to this work. In addition to the four missions already working in this union, the Southern Methodists have decided to come in. It is impossible to estimate the value of this college. China needs leaders in all lines, but she needs well-trained spiritual leaders most of all. Unless the moral and spiritual standards of the nation are raised, the Republic itself can not stand.

MEDICAL WORK.

The medical work in the hospital has been carried on during the year, but under somewhat unfavorable circumstances. On account of the weakened physical condition, Dr. Macklin was not able to do the outside work which had enabled him to supplement the exchequer of the hospital, and the result was a great falling off in receipts.

Mrs. Molland has had sole charge of the business affairs of the hospital, and this, in addition to her teaching in the School for Nurses and many other duties and against great odds, has brought the institution through. The doctor has a number of good native assistants who, under his direction, have kept the work going.

The buildings and premises have been sold to the university. As soon as financial arrangements can be made, they will be turned over to the Board of Trustees. This will enlarge the field of opportunity, and if we have an able representative on the staff, will in no way decrease our influence as a mission.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.

Never before were there such opportunities in this field. During the Chinese New-Year holidays a union revival was held in a theater seating two thousand people. The two daily meetings were well attended, the building being usually crowded in the afternoon. Three hundred and sixty people registered themselves as inquirers during this meeting. In the evening meetings were held in a dozen churches in the city, all of these being crowded every night.

Drum Tower.—There have been fifty baptisms at this church during the year. The present membership is two hundred and seven. The contributions have amounted to three hundred and sixteen dollars. This church is a most important center on account of the student body which attends it. In addition to one hundred and twenty girls from the Girls' Boarding School, the pupils from the Middle School of the university, more than two hundred in number, attend worship here.

The character of these young people is in a formative period. The pastor of this church should have time to devote himself to these young people instead of having a professorship in a Bible College added to his duties, as Mr. Garrett has had this year.

South Gate.—The church at this point is in the most desirable possible location in the city for evangelistic work. It is a densely populated district of well-to-do Chinese merchants, whose residences and business places are in the neighborhood. Many years of work by Dr. Macklin, and later by Miss Kelly and others, have won the friendship and good-will of the people. The present rented building is very frequently crowded, and on a great many occasions will not begin to accommodate the people. There have been thirty-nine baptisms this year. The work is admitted by all to be the most effective evangelistic work of any mission in the city. It is especially hopeful, because the people themselves are very ready to take the initiative. The outlook for a strong church which shall be a vital and constructive factor in the community is unusually good. A larger church is needed at once, with a man to give his entire time to the building up of the work in this community. D. E. Dannenberg, who has had the oversight of the work this year, has also had charge of all the out-station work of the district, which alone is more than enough work for one man.

Woman's Work.—Miss Kelly reports: "In spite of the revolution, Miss Raw turned the work over in very good condition. The evangelistic work among the women has progressed steadily. After the union revival, we held a nine days' special meeting. The visible results were twenty-six inquirers. The spiritual growth is very good, as evinced in our weekly prayer-meetings, where, nearly always, every Christian woman present and every inquirer leads in prayer. There are five weekly classes held in homes. It is the aim to keep every Christian woman and inquirer studying the Bible or learning to do so."

CHUCHOW.

The people of Chuchow have, on their own confession, a fresh standard for judging civilization since the mission took an interest in municipal affairs. The work of long years is beginning to bring a splendid fruition. Seven of the leading merchants and city elders are the chief organizers of our "Good Citizenship League." Clean houses, swept streets, and an honest administration are tremendous forces in the argument of the superiority of a Christian over a heathen civilization. Our Central City church and the twelve country churches are a working unit in all reforms.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor stopped its meetings at home for personal devotion alone, and went out visiting the rural Christian communities each Lord's day. The country churches interchange pulpits, and hold regular monthly business meetings with the elders. Special services, lectures, revivals, Bible study classes, inquirers' meetings, and house-to-house visitation have strengthened the church. One hundred and twelve have obeyed the Lord in baptism.

One Christian woman built a manse as a thank-offering. The Endeavorers opened a self-supporting branch work at the main street near the railway depot. In all, we have raised for self-support and evangelization about $270; our Chinese treasurer, local elders, and deacons look after the business administration.

The Sunday-school has grown steadily, the average attendance being 200; April 13th was a very special day, with an attendance of 469. The whole city recognized the Day of Prayer, and the services were most impressive. In honor of America's recognizing the Republic of China, mass-meetings of all the city schools were held in our church; it was a wonderful sight, and linked us very close to the city.

In the spring of 1912 our girls' school was divided and carried on privately by two girls educated in our own schools. The city government has now assumed the support of one of these schools, and given it a building formerly used as a nunnery. The girls in this school frequently attend our Sunday-school in a body. The other school has sixty-five students, nearly all of whom pay tuition.

Our boys' school enrollment reaches one hundred. One of the strongest leaders in town was secured as teacher, and the schools have the hearty moral support of the best and most influential people in the city, many of the pupils coming from such homes. The aim is kept straight before the boys that we desire to lead them to Christ. Most of these pupils attend Sunday-school, where we have fifteen classes, with an efficient teaching force, and the head of the girls' school as superintendent. Although it is only a year since our church building was doubled in seating capacity, it is already too small for the audiences, and several of the classes meet in other buildings.

The hospital is a recognized Red Cross work. Several private wards are always in demand, and the statistics show about 450 in-patients and some 9,000 other treatments during the year.

Dr. Osgood attended the Triennial Medical Conference in Peking. W. R. Hunt attended the annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Nanking School of Theology. By special invitation, lectures were given on scientific and political problems, as well as on hygiene, by Dr. Osgood and Mr. Hunt, in Nanking, Wuhu, and Chinkiang.

The evangelistic work touches every point of the work; our day school teachers, as well as the hospital assistants, meet the evangelists at their monthly meeting for conference. Endeavorers mortgaged a chapel at Kwan Dein, a town some hundred li up the Tientsin-Pukow Railway line, and furnished it at a cost of $75 gold.

Chuchow is a bee-hive of Christian service. We are linked up in fellowship with our nearest neighbor mission station—the China Inland Mission, some fifteen miles away. Our evangelists do much farmhouse visitation, and in the fall and winter evenings the lantern lectures form a special feature of their work.

The reading-room and library work of the year has been most gratifying. It has won us many of the best young men of the city as personal friends. We supply the best modern scientific and progressive literature.

In the Central City church, as in the country churches, our Sunday morning service is in line with our home Bible school plan. The church doors are open all day, and the reading-room until night. It is of special encouragement to the station that the members themselves are coming to exercise a real and vital interest in the purity and advancement of the church in all its departments.

God has given us a wonderful year despite our unworthiness. Our peril point is in being too busy. What we need is a united prayer-power, and a vision of an ideal mission-station which would mean a new enthronement of Jesus in our lives and spell a real spiritual revival in our district.

SHANGHAI.

The past year has been a very strenuous one on account of the many increasing interests involved in the Shanghai work.

This year has seen the formation of a Chinese Church Council, composed of Mr. Li and the native officers of the church, paid and voluntary. This council promises to be of greatest assistance in the work.

J. A. Heal, of the Postal and Telegraph Mission, has frequently rendered assistance at our preaching services; being in hearty sympathy with our position, he has proved a veritable colleague in the station. In the coming of O. F. Barcus, we feel that the Lord has blessed our station with a worker after His own heart. He has entered upon the study of the language, and into all the interests of the work, with the greatest enthusiasm.

The evangelistic branches of the work have been maintained fully in our three Shanghai centers. An increasing interest is being taken in the gospel message. At special services held during the New Year, crowds had to be turned away because they could not find accommodation in our chapels. Our Yangtsepoo chapel will soon have to be enlarged.

We are greatly concerned about our Tsung Ming out-station. It is one of the largest fields in the mission, both in point of population and influence; here are the homes of numbers of retired officials, scholars, and business men, who are all very friendly toward us. We believe the time has come when we should make this island into a strong residence station; we must do so if we wish to carry out our part of the decision arrived at by the recent Mott conference, which recommended the efficient occupation of the vast tracts of unevangelized territory in the north of this province. This island, with its surrounding territory, is regarded by all the other missions as ours.

The school at Miller Road, which was taken over by the head master, Mr. Wang, has had a successful year. Our schools at Yangtsepoo continue to grow; the enrollment in the boys' school is fifty-two, and the present building is inadequate, but we are looking forward to our new building in the future. Our teachers in this school are doing excellent work. The spiritual life of the boys is much on their hearts, and much earnest Christian teaching is the result. The Yangtsepoo girls' school has an enrollment of thirty, eleven of whom are boarders. Four of the older girls have gone to the girls' school at Nanking. Mrs. Ware has opened a much-needed girls' school near her home.

Mrs. Ware has cared for the women's classes at our self-supporting church. We greatly rejoice in having been able to put three of our women in the Bible Training School, to prepare themselves for definite work. This is surely an answer to our prayers. One of these is Mrs. So, wife of one of our deceased members. He was anxious that she should become a Christian, but her mother hindered her, until last spring she decided definitely to give up all and take a definite stand for Christ. God has richly blessed her, and used her decision in the leading of her mother and several relatives to attend the services and to be willing that her children should have a Christian education. God willing, she will be my Bible woman in the near future.

Last summer and during the early fall Miss Tonkin's Bible woman asked for permission to use the guest-room in the evenings, and for many weeks a number of women came regularly, several of whom became inquirers.

Our regular Sunday and mid-week services for women have been well attended during the year. The Sunday-school has an average attendance of about eighty-two, with seven teachers.

Mr. Ware has engaged in literary work on the Board of the Chinese Tract Society and the Board of Publication of the Christian Literature Society.

During the year twenty-seven persons were baptized, including seven school-boys and five girls, and our chief teacher of Chinese.

LUCHOWFU.

The Hospital.—New cases, 14,922; old cases, 12,442; in-patients, 519; out-calls, 578; office visits, 201; cases of attempted suicide with opium, 51; total treatments for eleven months, 28,204.

Two special things have happened this year: the coming of Dr. Paul P. Wakefield, and a strike among the students. Dr. Wakefield's coming was a necessity on account of the size of the work. Here allow us to point out what has perhaps not been prominent before: that of all the work done in hospitals of the Foreign Society, formerly about one-fourth, and at present about one-sixth, is done in Luchowfu. You can estimate the proportion of its force we should have—certainly two doctors and a nurse.

Although the medical work is lighter this season than usual all over this district, the amount of work done has been about as usual, in spite of the reports of the strike that were circulated and the rumor that Dr. Butchart was leaving. The strike hindered us in many ways, and put a great strain on those left to bear the burden. But we can see already that it was a necessary thing, and it has been of great benefit in clearing the atmosphere and allowing us to get a new start along some lines, dropping some assistants who were undesirable, and getting a superior lot of men. So far as we can estimate, the cause of the strike was the feeling among the men that they were not getting compensation in money in proportion to what men of little ability were getting in the army. They did not estimate that the knowledge and training they got was a just equivalent for their work.

To carry on the work requires a certain number of assistant students, who give their work in return for teaching, training, and experience received. In this plan we must do our part. If we are to deal fairly with them, we must give them a certain amount of teaching and training. This can not be done by any one man, with his numberless varieties of work.

The students just now are a much better class of men than formerly, as we have retained the better ones of the former students, and the new ones we have taken on are good men. They are getting all the regular teaching they can take. They have monthly examinations, and already two or three men have been dropped because they failed to show ability or earnestness.

The evangelistic work has been crippled by the absence of Mr. Hsia, who has been attending the Bible College. The only helper was the second evangelist, whose training and ability are both limited. The daily evangelistic meetings in the morning for the clinic, and in the evening for the in-patients, have continued and been well attended throughout the year. The reading-room and library have been freely used by the patients, and many of the books have been circulating in the homes in the city and among the teachers and students.

Mrs. Peng continues teaching the women in the hospital; she is with them while they are waiting to be seen in the clinic, teaching and answering questions. During the afternoon she goes through the wards, sitting by the bedside talking to or teaching those who wish to learn to read. Some of the women and girls who have been in the hospital a long time have read no small amount.

THE CHURCH.

The church work has been somewhat below par this year, due to several reasons, but in spite of these hindrances the Sunday meetings and prayer meetings have held their own. Six men and five women in the Luchowfu District have been baptized this year.

We have been able to put more responsibility in the hands of the Chinese Christians. Under the missionary leadership, they have organized and elected their own officers, holding monthly meetings in the city, quarterly meetings for the district. All questions connected with our work are discussed at these meetings, and the general policy for the city and out-station work is outlined.

The church entertained the annual convention of the Chinese Christians, from which it derived much help. This was followed by a series of special meetings. During the Chinese New-Year season we had another series of special evangelistic meetings.

The Sunday afternoon meetings for women, held in the hospital chapel, have averaged only ninety this year; there are now ten in the inquirers' class; ten are studying six hours daily in the Chinese character and Bible class. This year our women have met regularly for an early Sunday morning prayer-meeting, which has been to them a great source of strength. The New Year's evangelistic meetings for women had a fair attendance, averaging a hundred and fifteen for three weeks. Mr. Dziang, of Nanking, and Mr. Han, our city evangelist, gave valuable assistance in these meetings. At the close of the meetings there were several new inquirers.

We have at last succeeded in securing a place for the women's work—a fine location in the center of the city.

The East Gate Chapel.—The East Gate chapel has had an addition which doubles its size. During the Chinese convention last July, and for a week following, meetings were held every evening, and the chapel was filled. Since then preaching has gone on steadily with but few interruptions, and the interest and attendance have been encouraging. The attendance at the Sunday afternoon meeting for women has averaged forty-five.

The Cottage Meetings.—The opportunities for cottage work for women and children are great. We have two homes open for regular weekly meetings, in one of which we hold a children's meeting. The children's work is a new feature, attractive and full of possibilities. We need for it more time and better equipment to make it effective. We could have just as great a work for the children as we have for the women, if we could get it on a proper working basis. We have also another home open for regular bi-monthly meetings. Twenty-seven cottage meetings have been held within the city, and seventeen in the villages outside. Besides this, we have opened two villages for regular bi-monthly work.

The Colporteurs.—Two colporteurs have traveled in the district distributing Gospels and literature in places seldom touched otherwise.

The Girls' School.—Fifty-three pupils were enrolled in the girls' school in the fall term, but the enrollment increased to seventy-four. The girls are from the best families in the city, and the majority are doing excellent work. We will be glad to welcome Miss Vautrin next fall, when she comes to take over this work.

The Boys' School.—The school closed about the middle of July; four students who have been in the school since its opening were given diplomas. The school has run a more even course this year than it did last. There have not been so many pupils, but a decided improvement in the spirit of the school was manifest.

San-ho Out-station.—The boys' school in San-ho has grown steadily, with an increase of fifty percent in enrollment. The pupils pay more tuition than in the city school. We have fifty-five pupils, with two teachers.

The evangelistic work this year has not had careful attention, as the evangelist has been attending Bible school in Nanking. He has now returned, and from a recent meeting reported large audiences and a class for Bible study organized.

During the year two special meetings for women were held in San-ho by Mrs. Djou and two of our Christian women. Much visiting and teaching in the homes was done at that time. Five inquirers are reported.

Liang-yuen Out-station.—The school at Liang-yuen is very encouraging. The smallness of the room limits it to one teacher and twenty pupils.

The evangelistic work is supported by the Luchowfu Christian Church. They own the property and pay all expenses. The firstfruits of this work we reaped this year, when four young men were baptized, one of whom is the teacher in the school. The work is encouraging; the chapel is filled when any special meetings are held.

The work among women has been opened this year. Throughout the time of the three visits made the women came in large numbers. They were doubtless prompted by curiosity, but they remained to hear, and there are a few even this soon who seem to believe.

NANTUNGCHOW.

Nantungchow is situated in one of the most densely populated districts in the Yangtse Valley. From the top of the famous Langshan (or Wolf Mountain), which is in walking-distance from Nantungchow, the Yangtse is seen to the south, looking more like a yellow sea than a river, while to the northeast and west lies the richest farming district in Central China, so thickly dotted with houses that it resembles a mammoth village, stretching away as far as the eye can see.

The question which comes with forceful insistency to the beholder is, "How are these millions of people ever to hear the gospel even once?" The only answer to this question flashes back from what looks from the mountain top like the interlacing of silvery ribbon upon the landscape: the whole country abounds in a network of canals. The difficult problem of transportation is solved and waiting for the gospel messengers. Nantungchow could be linked by out-stations and regular iteration to the Hai Meng and Tsung Ming stations, which are being worked from Shanghai, thus giving us a connected work seventy-five miles in length. This vast, crowded area was designated by the Mott conference as a "neglected field." There is a great and instant need of men and women, unafraid of hardships, for systematic boat itinerancy.

The mission homes are built near the spot where Hudson Taylor halted before venturing into the desperately wicked city of Nantungchow. His helpers refused to go further, but Mr. Taylor committed his soul to God and went forward. A little further up West Street he was seized by a savage mob and dragged for a mile or more to the city gate, where the mob halted for a rest. Mr. Taylor, wounded and fainting, begged some women who lived near by for a cup of water, which was refused. Death seemed a certainty, when suddenly some chair-bearers forced their way through the crowd, placed the wounded man in the sedan chair, and hurried away to the yamen, before the astonished mob could recover enough to interfere, and Mr. Taylor was saved by what might be called a modern miracle.

Now the missionary ladies walk alone on this street. The women invite us in for a cup of tea, and the little children stop playing to run and greet us, and they often sing "Jesus loves me" when they see us coming.

The distance between the mob violence which greeted Mr. Taylor and the gentle "Jesus loves me" which greets us to-day has been bridged by the "win-someness of Christ."

In the city of Nantungchow a quickening interest in Christianity is noticeable: we now have three chapels in the most crowded districts of the city—at each of the three great gates—and the clinic room at the new hospital is also used regularly for evangelistic services. These chapels are always crowded.

During the past year there have been fifty-four baptisms, and the names of more than fifty inquirers are now registered. The veteran pastor, Mr. Shih Gwei Biao, and his wife, have given their best to the work during the past year, and they have been ably assisted during the last half year by Mr. Ben Ming Gwei, a graduate of the Nanking Seminary, who has given his time largely to Bible training classes, with the thought uppermost of making every church member a gospel messenger. As a result of these classes a few of the members have banded together as an evangelistic society, and have given of their means for the purchase of tracts, which they distribute in the surrounding villages as they go about preaching.

Two evangelists and colporteurs have been supported by the little Pico Heights Church, of Los Angeles. These men have gone about the country selling Gospels and preaching, and doing personal work among the pilgrims who come from great distances to worship the idols at Liangshan.

The two reading rooms are well attended, and are proving a factor in the enlightenment of the people. Twenty of those baptized last fall were brought into touch with the gospel through the reading room.

No educational work has been attempted other than day schools, as there has been no one appointed for this work, and the time of the evangelist in charge has been occupied with his own pressing duties. Three day school teachers are employed.

On the evening of October 2d the new hospital, the gift of Mr. C. C. Chapman, was formally opened. It is a fine building, situated advantageously near the canal steamboat landings, as well as on one of the best roads in the city. Patients were beginning to come in large numbers for treatment when Dr. M. E. Poland, who had spent much time and energy in building and fitting up the hospital, was forced to return home quite broken in health.

This splendid plant is closed, waiting to be a blessing to this crowded field when a doctor comes to open its doors.

Some ten thousand or more of Scripture portions have been sold during the past year, and thousands of illustrated leaflets and Sunday-school cards have been distributed. The leaflets were presented by Mr. W. E. Blackstone, and the cards were sent by the E. S. Waste Material Department. These pictures have been a great blessing to the Chinese, and an incalculable agency in opening hearts and homes to the missionaries.

The people are very friendly, and much time has necessarily been spent in calling and entertaining guests. An average of two hundred guests were entertained as long as count was taken. When it is taken into consideration that tea and cake must be served, and that the Chinese have no conception of time, it will readily be seen that the social side is not the least duty of missionary life.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, who have been in charge of Nantungchow station for years, have been home on furlough, and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bowman, who have been under appointment to the Wuweichow District for over a year, were transferred to this station temporarily until the return of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson in September.

WUHU.

We have two centers of work in Wuhu; the first and older of these is our property on Long Street, the main business street of the city. Here we hold our regular church services and frequent evening evangelistic meetings, carried on by our native evangelist, Mr. Hsu. The church is in the midst of the largest shops in the city, and great numbers of the clerks from these stores attend the meetings. There have been eleven baptisms during the year.

We are just now moving the center of our purely evangelistic work to the East Gate, and the Long Street property will be used for an institutional church. This institutional work has already had a beginning in the public lectures which have been given in the church at intervals during the last two or three years, and in the large reading-room we have had there. This winter Alex. Y. Lee, who returned from America last year to teach in the University of Nanking, delivered several lectures to representative men of the city, who had been especially invited to hear him. His lectures were very timely and much appreciated. Mr. Hunt also gave two lectures to crowded houses, the audiences being composed of leaders from the different guilds, students, and other leading men of the city.

We are now adding game rooms, and an effort is being made to organize a local Young Men's Christian Association. George C. Lee, brother of Alex. Lee, is to have charge of this Long Street work, giving his time completely to it.

Our other and more recent center of work is at the East Gate of the city. We began here three years ago with a school and chapel, where meetings were held in the afternoon for women, and in the evening for men. This East Gate district is a section of homes, and we intend to locate the church here and make it the center for our purely evangelistic work. Mr. Hsu has moved from the Long Street premises to the building in which our East Gate school is located, and will thus be able to carry on the work more effectively.

The woman's work, under Miss Dale, is confined entirely to the East Gate district, as the Long Street church has never been a good center for that work. Evangelistic meetings are held regularly on Sunday and Wednesday afternoons, and the attendance is usually good. In both the fall and the spring Miss Dale, assisted by Mrs. Hsu and others, conducted ten days' special classes for the women. Bible study was the principal object, but lessons were also given in hygiene and cooking. The attendance and interest were good, and we were brought into touch with several of the women from the large homes near by, some of whom have been coming regularly to the meetings since. The usual special evangelistic services were held for ten days at China New-Year's time; a new feature was the use of the stereopticon, the subjects being manly Biblical; the tickets of admission to the stereopticon talks were single copies of the Gospels, which were sold at the door for half a cent each; by this method several hundred copies of the Word were carried into the homes of the people.

In connection with the East Gate work, we have a girls' school which is most promising. During the summer we were fortunate enough to be able to rent new quarters for the school, in a much better location. The new building is half of what was formerly the residence of the head official of Wuhu, and with a little alteration it has made a splendid place for the school—light and airy and commodious. The year has been a most prosperous one for the school, the second term showing an advance in attendance over the first, in spite of the doubling of the tuition at the beginning of the second term. We are hoping that next year will see a still greater advance in the number of pupils and the character of the work done.

On Sunday, in the large assembly room of the school, we have a Sunday-school for women and children, with an attendance averaging about fifty. We have tried the plan of having some of the older girls in the school teach small classes of younger children, and have found that it helped very much in keeping the Sunday-school up. We have used to great advantage the picture post-cards, pictures, scrap-books, etc., sent by friends at home, and they have added much to the interest of the children.

Alexander Paul, in addition to his oversight of the evangelistic work, has this year taken on the responsibility of principal of the new Union High School for boys. The Christian Advent Mission has for some years had a boys' boarding school in Wuhu; this year a union was effected in school work of three missions—the Christian Advent, the Methodist Episcopal, and our own. The plant already in use by the Christian Advent Mission was taken over by the uniting missions. This first term of the new school there have been 110 boarding pupils, and twelve day pupils. But this is more than the school can conveniently accommodate, and next term the number will be limited.

The industrial school that our own mission had already started was taken over into the union school, and has been a most successful department of the work. It furthermore gives the boys who can not afford to pay their tuition the opportunity to work their way. The work done is mainly that of making wicker chairs, couches, tables, etc.; later on other kinds of work will be introduced.

Mr. Paul has spent much time this year on the building and repairing of dykes in the Wuhu and Wuweichow Districts, the death of one member of the committee and the removal to another place of the second member having left most of the responsibility on him.

The rebuilding last year of the dyke that protects the Wuweichow District—a work which was under the supervision of Mr. Paul—has added much to the friendliness of the feeling towards us in Wuweichow, our out-station. On one of Mr. Paul's visits to Wuweichow this winter a public reception was held for him, at which he was officially thanked by the city officials and leading guilds for his work on the dyke.

The work in Wuweichow is progressing only slowly, because we have not had workers enough in Wuhu to give it the attention it should have had. Miss Dale has made a number of trips there, and finds an interest and receptiveness on the part of the women that is very different from the indifferent attitude common in Wuhu. She has gained entrance to some of the best homes, and great numbers come to see and hear her during her stay there. She has just opened a girls' school; the people are still a little afraid to trust their girls to a school opened by foreigners, and this first term showed an attendance of only eight girls. The parents objected to the introduction of games and gymnastic exercises, for any reasonable person should see that, in the first place, such things are not becoming the modesty and reserve necessary for little girls, and second, that a game of blind-man's-buff or hide-and-seek would inevitably cause the Chinese characters the children had just learned to become hopelessly mixed up in their little heads! But this attitude must in time wear off, and there will certainly be a big school, as well as evangelistic work, in Wuweichow—that is, there will be if we can have a resident foreign force to oversee and develop the work there; the city and district offer the largest possible opportunity, and we are praying that Wuweichow may very soon be opened as a resident station.

THE PHILIPPINES.

The past year has been one of great blessing and progress in our work in the Philippines. Serious illness has kept some of our workers from their accustomed duties for a time, but the Lord has been kind and spared the lives of all. Perplexing obstacles are constantly confronting us, but somehow the work moves forward. Laoag station has seen the completion of the Sallie Long Read Memorial Hospital, and is already experiencing activities and usefulness as a result. The building for the Vigan Bible College and dormitory was erected during the year, and ready for occupancy the first of May. The work in Manila has moved steadily forward toward the accomplishment of definite things, both educationally and medically. The evangelistic work has shown most excellent results in all the stations. Probably the greatest advance has been in the increased interest among our native workers in the conventions and institutes; wherever conventions or institutes have been held, they have entered into the real spirit of the work with more interest and intelligence than ever before. There is yet very much to be desired, but by the power and guidance of the Holy Spirit we are firmly trusting in the ultimate outcome of that which is best. We humbly submit, therefore, our report for the year ending April 30, 1913, trusting that it may be at once an inspiration to those who have already been helping to make the work possible, and a stimulant to such as have not yet lent a hand in the regeneration of our Island Possessions.

Evangelistic Work.—During the year a total of seventeen native evangelists have been employed for all their time, though many others have preached much without any financial recompense. The young people of the churches, especially in the Laoag District, have been very active in holding Sunday-schools and street services. The ministerial students at Manila and Vigan are doing much in evangelistic and Sunday-school work. In Manila they conduct Sunday-schools and Bible classes in no less than five different districts. Some of the young women, trained in the institutes for women held at Laoag and Vigan, have been employed at times in weaker churches, half their salary having been paid by the mission and half by the native brethren through their convention. In Manila one woman worker is employed, whose salary is paid by the women of the American Church. Her name is Ligoria Garmona. She has rare gifts for evangelistic work. The whole Tagalog field has felt the influence of her holy life and untiring labors. Through her, other women have been enlisted. The four young women nurses of the Manila Hospital have received special instruction in the Bible, and are making themselves very helpful as teachers and personal workers. The institutes conducted for women in the Ilocano field have enjoyed a remarkable attendance and interest, and are telling mightily for good among the churches. Space will not permit the mentioning of the work of each evangelist. With but few exceptions they are laboring most effectively. They are well grounded in first principles, and can present the gospel with telling effect upon their hearers. God is crowning their labors by large numbers of conversions. We were deeply grieved at the death of Buenaventura P. Garcia, which occurred January 14, 1913, at the age of thirty-seven. Possibly no other man in the Philippines contributed so much to our work here as Buenaventura Garcia. He has been fittingly styled "the prince of Filipino evangelists."

The total number of conversions for the Philippines for the year ending April 30, 1913, is 798. Six churches and six Sunday-schools were organized. There was a greater number of conversions by 170 than the previous year, but our membership this year totals only 4,509, as over against 4,863 last year, making a loss of 354. This is due to the fact that at Laoag "the list was entirely revised and the backsliders dropped." All the churches probably have some backsliders, and if a strict count was made in the other stations there would be a further slump in figures. This, however, does not mean that greater losses have been suffered during the past year than in former years. Probably fewer proportionally are falling away now than ever before, due to the improvement of the methods of pastoral care. It should be said that many scattered brethren are not counted, many of whom are faithful, which fact should offset somewhat the conditions named above.

The conventions of native churches have helped in the way of encouraging the giving of money to the Lord's work, in keeping a more accurate list of the membership as to who have ability to preach and teach, and by bringing the churches into a more united fellowship. The last semi-annual convention of the Laoag District was held in the church the farthest north. It has the largest membership of any of the congregations there, but for some time it has been rather dormant. Since the convention there it has taken on new life. A Sunday-school has been organized in the chapel, and other classes in the suburbs for Sunday afternoons, and twenty people were soon afterwards baptized. A live convention was also held in the Vigan District. The decennial celebration of the opening of our work in the Philippines was held in Manila in October. The attendance was large, though mostly confined to delegates from the Tagalog churches, due to the great distance from Manila of the other brethren. It was a great success, as it revealed to the native brethren their strength and the possibilities of their work if they should earnestly co-operate, which they were encouraged to do.

The Sunday-school work has already been referred to. The Sunday-schools in Laoag and Manila have made the largest gains. The whole city of Laoag and its outlying districts have been greatly stirred by the teachers of the Word. Our own Emiliano Quijano presided over the sessions of the Philippines second annual convention, this year in Manila. The Filipinos are rapidly awakening to the idea of Bible education through the means of the Sunday-school.

The Manila station was very fortunate in having added to its force in October a man who was already well equipped in the knowledge of the language, as well as otherwise, in the person of J. B. Daugherty. From the time of his arrival he has been doing a man's work.

Educational Work.—Bible College and dormitory work is being carried on at Vigan and Manila. A total of sixty-six students were enrolled. All of these take one or more courses in the Bible. This is required. Fewer students received full support from the mission the past year than formerly. Many of those most desirous of Bible training are paying the full rates of board. The enlarged and superior facilities furnished by the new college building at Vigan insure a much larger and more effective educational work in that center. It is a splendid, reinforced concrete structure, costing over $10,000. It has dormitory facilities for fifty students, two excellent class rooms, office, etc., and is thoroughly up-to-date. There is one school term of six months in each year, June to December, thus making it possible for a young man to study in the Bible College half the year and preach the gospel or engage in other work the remaining half. The term at Manila is ten months, as formerly, the same as the Government schools. The courses in both these schools are confined almost entirely to the Bible and related subjects, one missionary being sufficient thus far to do the bulk of the teaching. Many of the students take other courses in the Government schools, near at hand. A friend has provided $25,000 for the Bible College in Manila. We have already received the money for the site, negotiations for which are now being made. We hail with the highest joy this gift. It will have a tremendous power for good, employed, as it will be, for education in the Word of God, of the bright Filipino youth who come to the Philippine University and the other schools of the Government near by.

Medical and Hospital Work.—The partial failure of the rice crop in the Ilocos country has made it hard financing for the doctors at Laoag and Vigan. Providence has been kind to the people, however, and, although there has been some suffering on account of hunger, the year recorded the least amount of sickness and the lowest death rate throughout the Philippines seen for many years. The total number of treatments for the year was 23,149, and the total receipts in fees were $6,141.30, and the total expenditures, $6,784.56. The event of the year was the erection in Laoag of the Sallie Long Read Memorial Hospital. The contract was let in March, 1913. The building formerly occupied by Dr. Pickett and family as a residence and dispensary was purchased, and to it an addition was built of reinforced concrete, exactly duplicating in the new part the amount of floor-space in the old. There is now ample room under one roof for the dispensary, hospital, and quarters for nurses. There are now accommodations for forty in-patients. The lot purchased is also spacious enough for the physician's residence, whenever the funds for such are forthcoming. The cost of the plant as it now stands is about $7,750. We want again to express our deep appreciation of the splendid gift of R. A. Long, which has made this hospital possible. It will have a tremendous influence for good in the whole of Northern Luzon, where it is the only hospital. The medical work in Manila and Vigan, though only recently begun, is making a large showing. Both of the doctors, with their corps of assistants, are finding more than they can do. The extent of the work in Manila may be indicated by the fact that during the year 500 treatments were given to Chinese, 275 to whites, 90 to East Indians, besides some 3,000 treatments to Filipinos. Hospital work in Manila was begun some nine months ago in one room of the mission house, with ten beds, which have been fully occupied much of the time, with many turned away. A small hospital, modernly equipped, is needed in Manila, which should be supplied as soon as possible.

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Kline brought cheer and encouragement to the missionaries at Vigan, who most of the time had no competent doctor within easy reach of them to attend them when sick, and who longed for a medical missionary to come to relieve the suffering of the people about them. From the very first Dr. Kline has been rushed from morning till night. Soon after his arrival, in October, he opened a small hospital in a rented building, which has been well patronized from the beginning. We rejoice to hear that a good woman has provided money for a hospital in Vigan. We are glad that our doctors here, while giving full attention to their profession as doctors, are making this work secondary and as a means to the propagation of the gospel. They are thoroughly imbued with the evangelistic spirit and, besides opening up the way for the gospel advocates, are doing much evangelistic work themselves.

LAOAG.

Evangelistic Work.—During the year five evangelists have been employed for all of their time, though many more have preached much without any financial recompense. The young people of the churches have been very active in holding Sunday-schools and street services. Some of the young women trained in our institutes have been employed at times in the weaker churches, half of their salary having been paid by the mission and half by the native brethren through their convention. The total number of baptisms for the year ending April 30, 1913, was 259.

The convention of the native churches has helped in the way of encouraging the giving of money to the Lord's work; in keeping a more accurate list of the membership, as to who have fallen away and who have ability to preach and teach, and by bringing the churches into a more united fellowship, both through their oneness of purpose and their coming together in their semi-annual meetings. The last convention was held in the church farthest north in this district. It has the largest membership of any of our congregations, but for some time has been rather dormant. Since the convention there it has taken on new life. A Sunday-school has been organized in the chapel, and other classes in the suburbs for Sunday afternoons, and twenty people were soon after baptized.

Special attention has been given to Bible school work, and in the Laoag chapel for the year the average Sunday-school attendance has been about 125. Thirteen classes are held by our workers in as many places in the town, and the total attendance often exceeds 300 in them. The schools in other towns have caught the spirit and are making good progress.

Educational.—Two of our young men are in the Vigan Bible College, preparing for the ministry. Young women are being trained for church work in their home towns by means of special Bible institutes. Last year one was held in Vigan for our three Ilocano provinces, which had an attendance of thirty-three. Another was held in Laoag in February for the evangelists, deacons, and elders, in which eighteen young women chosen from the churches also received Bible instruction. Some very bright girls have been sent us who were not professed Christians when they came, but who have turned out to be splendid workers for the Kingdom.

Pastoral Work.—Our force has been taxed to its utmost this year. The construction of the new hospital building needed much of the time Dr. Pickett could spare from his regular work. Miss Siegfried's work had to go undone during a five weeks' illness, and a forced vacation afterwards. Fewer visits were made to the outside towns than we would like, but the work in the station has grown perceptibly. During the year about two hundred services have been conducted in the Laoag chapel itself. Besides that, 482 services and Bible classes have been conducted by the missionaries, and 445 calls have been made in the homes.

Our station is a large one; hearts have been opened to the gospel; a dissension between the priest of Laoag and his peers has helped our work along. We haven't been idle, but have preached in the market, the plaza, the homes of the dead and dying, and the gospel has been brought to the ears of the people by going from house to house proclaiming the good news. Friends in America, listen! Our station is open to the gospel now as it never has been in its history, and if you don't send us an added worker at once, we fear it is more open than it ever will be again. The dissenting priest has been supplanted not by a new one, but by three. Within little more than a week three image processions have occupied our streets for more than an hour each time. Miss Siegfried is soon to leave for her furlough. Will you leave Dr. Pickett, with the added work the new hospital brings, to be burdened by the thought that the people who were so near to receiving the gospel are turning back in crowds to Romanism? He can't do it all. He must have help.

Medical Work.—The medical work has been carried on along the same lines as usual. The partial failure of the rice crop last year has made it the hardest year in our history to keep even financially. Providence has been kind to the people, however, and although there was some suffering on account of hunger, the year recorded the least amount of sickness and the lowest death-rate for a long time. Our tabulated records show that there were 15,606 treatments during the year; 351 professional visits were made to the homes of the sick. Four hundred minor and forty-five major operations were performed. In the room we used for in-patients ninety-five were cared for during the year. Eighty-eight visits were made to outside villages. The receipts for the year from fees amountd to $3,049.38. The expenditures were $3,210.48. Two nurses and three medical helpers have been in constant training. They have not only made good progress, but they have rendered excellent service as well. Two of our helpers are also preachers, and at various times they have been sent out for special work in the field.

VIGAN.

The work of the Vigan station reaches into the three provinces of Ilocos Sur, Abra, and Calinga, whose combined population is somewhat less than 250,000. The liberality of the brethren has made this a station of institutions, as we have located in Vigan a press, a Bible college, and a hospital. Upon the missionaries of this station devolves the responsibility for the Aparri station also.

Within the missionary year the Kline family has been added to the station force, and Dr. Kline has started a valuable medical work that is far-reaching in its influence. The splendid concrete college building has been completed and put into service. A home for the Hanna family has been purchased, and funds are in hand for a home for the principal of the Bible College. With the exception of a very grave and continued attack of dysentery suffered by John McCallum, the missionary force has enjoyed good health. We wish that larger visible results had been obtained this year, but we feel that we have sowed liberally that which will be harvested in the near future.

Evangelistic Work.—Ruperto Inis, Alejandro Inis, Augustin Belesario, Doroteo Benzon, and Tiborcio Tagorda have been the salaried evangelists in Ilocos Sur and Abra, and Catalino Valera has worked among the head-hunters—a misnomer now—and the Tinguians. What appears to have been a case of over-officiousness interfered with his work at Balbalasang, but work has been started at some other places among the same pagan people, the Calingas; teachers have been placed, and one of these teachers baptized five people. The five evangelists among the Ilocanos have done efficient work, and they have seen souls turn to the Lord and the churches advance in knowledge and favor. The native convention contributed more than thirty-five dollars for evangelistic labor and chapel construction. Telling service has been rendered by Justa Oliva, a Bible woman regularly employed. Through her day school and visiting she has made hundreds of friends for the gospel, and some are yielding to the claims of the Lord Jesus. Other brethren, men and women, have rendered helpful service. Two new churches have been established, one having been begun by a member of the Vigan church as he was farming in a distant place; the other is owing to the turning to the primitive faith of a preacher in another fellowship, many of his former parishioners taking their stand with him also. The opposition to the evangelistic work has been well organized and sustained, but it has only served to make the results obtained by the preaching more lasting. In only one town has the church stood still.

The Press.—The past has been the most successful year of the press department. The job work is on the increase, and the good service we are able to render is becoming widely known. A young Filipino is being trained to assume full charge of the press, so that less time of the missionary will be required. A handsome advance in the number of paying and paid-up subscribers for our Ilocano weekly has been seen this year. The Philippine Christian has been sent forth each month to inform the people and to inspire them to apply their prayers and pocket-books to missionary work in the Philippines. Tens of thousands of tracts have been issued in three languages. Thousands of a doctrinal primer have been issued and sold, and a two thousand five hundred issue of an almanac has been sold. We stand ready to publish booklets that the busy missionaries may prepare as they have time. We have saved our three hospitals a goodly sum in being able to prepare the labels, records, charts, and other printed materials they need. In the Ilocano weekly we give a page to general news items, maintain a Sunday-school department, and a Question Box; present editorials that serve as tracts, give the news of the churches and towns, and have two pages devoted to advertising, and English and Spanish articles of all sorts. We feel that the paper is a strong force for righteousness and preaches, where missionaries and evangelists do not, the faith once for all delivered to the saints. Aside from his duties in preparing copy, the editor has read the proof on an Ilocano Pocket New Testament that the American Bible Society is bringing out.

Hospital and Dispensary.—Vigan is a town of wealth, with thirty thousand inhabitants; a Roman stronghold three hundred years old, and is situated three miles inland from the China Sea, near the mouth of the Abra River. Excellent Government roads open the way to the numerous towns, both north and south, while the Abra River affords access to the pagan tribes up in the mountains to the east. There falls under the care of the medical department of the Vigan station a population equal to that of the District of Columbia, whose twelve well-equipped hospitals in valuation and expense budgets aggregate more than a million dollars. The Vigan Christian Hospital is quartered on the ground floor of an old Spanish house. It receives for all purposes from America the sum of $1,560 per annum, while a like sum (which is not intended to meet current expenses) is collected here for professional services. From December 6, 1912, to date (July 30), ninety-four patients have been admitted to the hospital wards for treatment. During June there were 974 treatments. As we live in the same building used for the hospital, the latter has so encroached upon our space that only two rooms remain which we claim as exclusively our own. Besides the missionaries, the hospital staff is composed of three nurses, two male helpers, one orderly, and one cook. At present eighteen persons, including patients, are quartered in our house. That it is "bad housing" would be putting it mildly. It is positively dangerous.

When I see pictures of splendid church buildings in the Evangelist and Standard, I glory in the success of our brotherhood in Christ; but when I go down-stairs and see the woefully inadequate quarters for the sick, with whose welfare we are charged, it does not seem fair. What is it that is ours to have, to hold, and to enjoy when others are in desperate want? Our efficiency as your representatives in world evangelization can be increased many times by an adequate equipment. The salaries you pay us and the youth and strength at your disposal are in part squandered unless properly used and managed to bring in reasonable returns. WE NEED A HOSPITAL BUILDING NOW.

Mrs. McCrea and Mrs. Warrendorf, of Houston, Texas, support one of our medical helpers. The splendid church in Houston is my Living-link church. Mrs. Kline is performing the work of steward, matron, and superintendent of nurses for the hospital. She teaches practical nursing five days in the week. Two nurses take one hour each day at the Bible College. A chapel service is held every morning in the hospital.

Vigan Bible College.—The work in the Bible College during the year ending June 1, 1913, closely resembled that of previous years. There was, however, a considerably increased enrollment, and a larger percentage of the boarders were in the higher classes of the Government schools. Two-thirds of the students were members of Protestant churches. The remainder, with one or two exceptions, were nominally Roman Catholics, though Protestant in sympathy. Notwithstanding the fact that it was a hard year for the farmers, whose sons we had in our dormitory, fewer boarders received monetary help than heretofore. The experience of the past year has justified the conviction that has been gradually growing upon the missionaries, that assistance has been given frequently to those capable of helping themselves.

The young men in the dormitory were divided into two Bible classes, which met daily. One class studied the historical portions of the Old Testament, beginning with Samuel and ending with the close of Old Testament history. An attempt was made to teach other subjects, but with little success on account of the demands which public school teachers made upon the time of the students. Several of the young men gave excellent promise of becoming preachers of the Word, and these were given special help and encouragement as opportunity offered.

A distinct forward step was taken by the erection of a splendid building for the Bible College at a cost of over ten thousand dollars. In the past it has been necessary to use rented buildings, which have been more or less unsatisfactory. The building was completed on April 15, 1913, and on the first of May Miss Siegfried opened a month's school for girls and young women therein. The attendance was forty-eight, and work in the new building was most auspiciously begun. The building affords ample accommodations for young men attending the Government schools, in addition to those who will attend the Bible College classes. The plan of work for the ministerial students is six months in the Bible College and six months out in the field. Four sessions of six months each will be sufficient to complete the courses offered. Seven subjects will be taught in the first year, and an enrollment of ten or more is expected.

APARRI.

The work of the Aparri station, to which belong three great provinces, has moved along encouragingly, even though there is no missionary located within it. W. H. Hanna visited some of the churches once, and D. C. McCallum paid a longer and more extended visit to the station.

The chapel in Sanchez Mira has been completed and the cause advances there, especially in an outlying village. Ruperto Hilario is the salaried evangelist at Sanchez, and Julian Perlas a brother who is a tower of strength.

At Claveria many have been added to the Lord under the services of Doroteo Perlas. The church undertook to support him, but found themselves untrained for the systematic giving that was required, and so the evangelist had to begin farming again. In one of the barrios of Claveria, where we have sixty members, plans are maturing for a chapel, and the renovation of the house of worship in the town itself is being agitated.

The work of the churches at Aparri, Canayon, and Dugo has gone forward under the services of Alejandro Anunciacion and Sebastian Rigunan. In Aparri the church purchased a bell and improved its chapel some; a house for the evangelist has been erected from mission funds; and some of the Chinese members have shown growth in grace, their number having been added to also. In Canayon there has been but one addition, but encouraging liberality has been seen in the provisions for a new chapel. In Dugo several additions have been chronicled, and a new chapel begun.

A new congregation has been formed in the barrio of Maddalero. The membership is only twelve, but they are full of faith and the Holy Spirit, and plan aggressive things.

On up the Cagayan River is the church at Cabagan Nueva, which is fast becoming a light in a dark place. The leading brother there was once the right-hand man of a Romish priest, but now he is the Lord's man—a Cornelius and Philip combined.

The church at Bunnay has grown, and its chief pillar is now taking a course in the Bible College at Vigan. One of the members from Laoag has started a Sunday-school that may grow into a church.

So far away that none of the missionaries has ever yet visited them is a church at Maoanan and another at Solano. After finding the New Testament faith, Sevillano Gayogoy began to sound out the Word of the Lord far and near, with a result that there is a thriving band of believers there in his town, and believers are to be found in some near-by towns.

In several other towns of the Cagayan there are brethren in the Lord, and we believe that a general evangelist will be able to establish several new churches

The past year has been in some respects the most unsatisfactory, and in others the most gratifying of all in the history of this mission. The first two-thirds of the twelve months can be set down as a period of no gain, if not of actual loss. A few days after the beginning of the year, May 1, 1912, a Negro revolution broke out, and when that was quelled the political campaign, which had been interrupted by it, was taken up with redoubled zeal and prosecuted with redoubled heat. It is impossible for an American in his own land to understand how entirely such matters engross the attention of our people. Racial temperament and territorial limitations both co-operate to create in practically every individual the strongest kind of personal feeling.

Up to the time of the Presidential election and after, the chief struggle of the churches was to hold their own. We scarcely did so. But with the tranquilizing of conditions after the elections, we entered upon a period of more hopefulness. Our Sunday-school began to grow; old members who had been indifferent began to return and take their places in the congregation; and better yet, the outsiders, who had been totally indifferent all through the preceding months, began to manifest an interest. Since January 1st of the present year I have been preaching to better audiences than for a long time previous, and there have been quite a number of confessions and several baptisms. Mrs. Menges has been conducting a women's Bible class that has aroused much interest and is giving tangible results in the way of conversions.

The work in the out-stations is described by the above. The first part of the year, so far as could be seen, seemed to be barren of results, but since the beginning of 1913 there has been a revival in almost every way. The native preachers are doing good work and are growing as preachers. The brethren in Manguito, under the direction of Julio Fuentes, have started a building fund, and in Union, which is also under his care, he has secured the promise of a lot and some money toward the construction of a church. Buildings are badly needed at both these places, as well as at Jovellanos, where Jacobo Gonzalez ministers.

I do not wish to pose as a prophet, but I am strongly of the opinion that the most trying period of mission work in Cuba is now past. More stable political conditions are to be expected; people are getting to understand us better; and perhaps, even more helpful than these, our young people are establishing homes and a new generation is appearing that knows little of Romanism and its faith-killing tendencies, but is being reared in an atmosphere of reverent regard for the things that are true and pure and of good report. We have had to go very deep for the foundations, and the work of building is slow and patience-trying, but the now visible signs, as well as the promise of Him in whom we believe and whom we serve, are assurances that His Word will prevail.

With prayers for a spirit of humility and with mingled joy and sadness do the Congo workers submit herewith their report of what the Lord hath wrought through them the past year. With joy, because in every department the work has made substantial increase over last year, thus making it the banner year yet known to the Congo mission. With joy, because the growth of the churches has been encouraging and the number of baptisms far beyond our faith at the beginning of the year. With joy, because of increased recognition at the hands of the Government, thereby giving us a more equal ground on which to contest against our arch-enemy, Romanism. With sadness, because of the loss by death, on November 13, 1912, of one of our faithful workers, Mrs. R. Ray Eldred; yet with joy because of the strength and consolation from on high given him whose special portion it was to drink deeply and in solitude of the bitter waters of life.

There have been 1,304 this year, as against 901 last year and 563 two years ago. The present membership is 3,051, with a net increase of 1,038. The work has been richly blessed with fruits for the Master, despite the still great shortage of workers.

*Deceased.

During the early part of the year we were very happy to welcome to the actual Congo work our beloved secretary, S. J. Corey, and a special program was arranged to show him as many sides of the work as possible on every station. A special conference meeting of the entire force was held for three days, and the missionaries feel that not only has the work been helped in a special way and we ourselves strengthened, but also that, resulting from this visit of our secretary, the committee at home will better understand the Congo work.

In the early part of the year we were happy to welcome the two new workers, W. R. Holder and H. C. Hobgood, who came out with Bro. Corey, and who have already proved themselves valuable additions to the Congo forces. And also the coming of Mrs. Chas. P. Hedges and Miss Edith L. Apperson, just as the year closes, causes your fellow-workers on the Congo to rejoice and take courage for the new year's work.

BOLENGE.

Evangelistic.—The year just closed has been marked especially by the closer organization of the already large evangelistic work and the forward work on the Ubangi River.

In the back country, at each of the three large villages of Ikengo, Bofiji, and Injolo, a district evangelist has been located. These more tried men oversee the work of their younger brethren, and conduct communion services every Lord's day. In this work Is'olumbu, Kasongo, and Efusaka have demonstrated their ability and devotion.

In the Ubangi region the veteran evangelist Bitumba has been made district evangelist, with headquarters at Bobangi; and it is this part of the field which has given us the greatest joy. Four out-stations have been opened among the Ba-Loi. Last year it was a joy to report the baptism of one man as the firstfruit of this hitherto unreached people, but now the Ba-Loi Christians number forty-eight, and there is a membership of ninety-six in the Ubangi district.

There have been altogether 454 baptisms during the year, and two added by letter.

The Church.—The year closes with a membership of 1,405. As the missionaries have had to be away from the station many weeks during the year, a large share of the oversight of the church has fallen upon the two elders, Mark Njoji and James Bofei, and the district evangelists; and the progress made evidences the capacity of these Congo Christians for self-government. Spiritual growth is hardly a thing to be tabulated, but the gain in the spirit of giving has been quite apparent. The church alone, not counting the offerings of the missionaries, has given 3,241.10 francs ($648.22), against 1,856.28 francs given the year before by the missionaries and church combined. The church has just about doubled its offerings.

All the regular services have been kept up, and in addition Miss Eck has had a children's meeting on Sunday afternoons. This has been quite a popular service.

The Station.—Only Mr. Hensey, Mrs. Hensey, and Miss Eck have been on the station during the year; and as Mr. Hensey has had to have charge of the Oregon, the station has had to be left many times in the charge of trusted Christians, once for six weeks. But they have been faithful, and while many things have had to be neglected, some few things have been accomplished. A kiln of about 8,000 brick was burned; a brick and cement floor laid in the church; pews and pulpit made; a ceiling of native mats put in Mr. Moon's house; a splendid mud house built for the Coast carpenter, and a larger one of eight rooms for the workmen; a new garden fence of rattan built, and three of the larger buildings have been reroofed with ndele.

Educational.—The day school has been conducted as usual, with Mrs. Hensey and Miss Eck in charge, being kept up during their absences by the native teachers.

Special mention is due Mbolokola, who was Mr. Corey's "boy" and interpreter during his visit, and who has had charge of the school whenever the ladies have been away. Miss Eck has had her kindergarten, and Mrs. Hensey her French class.

The close of the year finds a rather unusual interest in the school, quite a few coming each day from neighboring towns.

On account of the smallness of the staff, one of the older girls, named Bolumbu, has been made a sort of matron of the girls' school, and has done very faithful service.

Medical.—As no doctor has yet been sent out, this part of the work has again had to be carried on by the dispensary assistants, except for two short visits by Dr. Jaggard. On one of these occasions an old man was taken suddenly ill, and the doctor found it necessary to operate at once. It was at the time of Brother Corey's visit, and the general secretary found himself a hospital assistant for one night. It is a pleasure to report that the patient, who is a Christian, has recovered, and that he is now janitor of the church.

All hope that another year's medical report will be written by the doctor for whose coming they have prayed so long.

Printing.—The press had to be stopped for a part of the year on account of the absence of the missionaries, but since February it has been running full speed. A second edition of the book of Old Testament stories has been turned out, and is now being bound. But the chief work of the year has been the printing of the English-Lonkundo part of the "Vocabulary." This is a book of 212 pages, including about 5,000 words. The Lonkundo-English part of the book is now in press, and it is hoped that the whole book of over 400 pages will be ready by September. Miss Eck has done valiant work in the printing office, and Ekebe, the foreman, has been especially helpful.

In all, including letter heads, Christian Endeavor topic cards, circulars, etc., about 20,000 pages of printed matter have been turned out.

As this is being written, Mr. Hedges is landing with his bride at Matadi, and all hope that in a few months he will once more be at his special work.

All things considered, it has been a busy, happy year at Bolenge, and the missionaries have reason to feel grateful to the Father for the health and inspiration given.

LONGA.

Perhaps slowly, yet surely, the Longa church is advancing to higher ideals, as is evidenced by the growth of the past year. The usual services (seven in number) have been held each week throughout the year, with the usual increase in these services during the quarterly gatherings of the evangelists. There have been 109 baptisms this year. The total number of additions, 109. Death has claimed its never-failing toll this year, whereby a goodly number have entered into rest. The net gain for the year is eighty-seven. The present membership is 268. The offerings of the church show a considerable increase over last year, being 710.00 francs, or $142.15. Special mention should be made here of the faithfulness and efficiency of the elders and deacons of the church, two of whom are teachers in the day school, enabling the services and the school to be carried on creditably during the time of Mrs. Eldred's last sickness and the six times when it was necessary for Mr. Eldred to be absent from Longa.

Work Among the Women.—Up to shortly before Mrs. Eldred's home-call, she conducted regular services for the women. Since then these services have been conducted mostly by the women themselves. A special feature of woman's work carried on this year has been that for refugee women. Since the change to a Belgian colony, the State has been cautiously working to reduce polygamy among the non-Christian natives. Any polygamous wife is free to leave her husband and owner and go to live wherever she may please—with another man, provided he has no wife; in her own village, remaining single; or at any mission station she may choose. In case she remains single, the polygamist husband receives nothing in return for the price he paid for her. If she be married to another man, he must pay an average price to the former husband. During the past year fifteen women from polygamous harems have sought and found refuge at Longa mission. These women, mostly young or middleaged, work about the mission, dressing the paths and working in the cane and banana plantations. They receive very small pay, lest this should become an incentive for their coming to the station. Very few of these but that become Christians sooner or later. Several of these women have been married to Christian young men—in each case the young man paying the average price, in this region, of $10. In no case is one of them married till after she becomes a Christian herself.

Evangelistic.—This year the Longa church has supplied thirty-two evangelists and thirteen evangelists' wives for the evangelistic field, and has furnished the financial support for eight married evangelists and their wives. While the evangelists were removed from one field or outpost, three new outposts have been opened during the year. The standard of eligibility for the evangelistic work has been raised this year, resulting in more efficient work done. Opportunities for evangelistic work are not wanting, and many are the open doors, each with its Macedonian call, that we have passed by unheeded, and must continue to pass by till such time as Longa station can be supplied with at least two men, thus giving some time for the training of her evangelists.

Itineration.—Since Mr. and Mrs. Eldred were alone the first half of the year, or till Mrs. Eldred laid down her armor, and since that time Mr. Eldred being entirely alone, he has not found the time necessary for evangelistic itineration. However, he has been able to go on six journeys: once with Bro. Corey and party up the Momboyo River, two hundred miles beyond Lotumbe; twice to Lotumbe station, to aid the brethren there during the quarterly gatherings of their evangelists; once, with the other brethren, far up the Lomela River, 325 miles above Monieka, where we went to spy out the land; once to Monieka, to aid Dr. Jaggard with operations, and once on an evangelistic journey to Longa outposts. The total time occupied by these journeys was ten and a half weeks; thus, owing to the stress of other parts of the work, evangelistic itineration has been neglected. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the work can not prosper as it should till more time can be devoted to this important part of mission work.

The Sunday-school.—The interest in the Sunday-school has been maintained at a high standard this year. The attendance has varied from just under 100 to over 200, with an average of 165. The lessons have been on the history of the early church, including Paul's missionary journeys. A bright feature of the school has been the increased number of children, into whose lives the present planting of the precious seeds can not fail to bear fruit some future day.

The Day School.—The day school has been conducted without a break throughout the year. Special mention may here be made of Ngio, who has had charge of the day school in Lonkundo, and who, together with two other paid teachers, has rendered valuable service in carrying on the school during Mr. Eldred's absence. The French school has been carried on all the year, excepting when Mr. Eldred was absent from Longa and for a short period following Mrs. Eldred's death.

Medical.—Again, in the absence of a doctor, it has fallen to Mr. Eldred to do a goodly amount of medical work. Numerous minor operations have been performed, some of them approaching the serious. There were 5,670 treatments from the station dispensary. A number of white traders and State officers received medical aid, several of whom were nursed through serious illnesses, including rigors due to sun-fever, bilious fever, abscess of the liver, and blood-poisoning. The receipts for medical fees were 479 francs, or $95.90. Aside from a few light malarial fevers, Mr. Eldred has been well all the year. Owing to serious illness last year,

Mrs. Eldred began this year with but fair health. This continued with slight variations till the latter part of October, when she took to her bed for a week with gastritis. Rallying from this, she was up and about for some days, when she was again stricken down, and on the morning of November 13th she suffered a congestive chill, which was followed by hæmaturia. She lingered till near the midnight hour, when in response to the roll-call of heaven she answered the summons of her Savior. Mr. Eldred wishes here to express his heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the many friends at home and in other lands for their prayers and letters of sympathy, and especially to his fellow-workers on the Congo for their sympathy and love at the time of his passing through the sorrowful shadow.

Building.—Owing to being alone, and also to the stress of so many and varied duties, your co-worker at Longa has not been able to push the building, so necessary to a new station, as it should be. However, the new house and cook-house, whose brick walls were just completed at the close of last year, have been finished, except the ceiling underneath the metal roofs. Two two-room mud houses were built for two special workmen, and also 45,000 brick have been made and dried, ready for the burning. These brick, of which Mr. Eldred now has 60,000 ready to burn, are for the new Longa church, which is the main feature of Longa's building program for the coming year.

LOTUMBE.

The favor of the Lord has rested abundantly on the Lotumbe station during the year. In spite of the fact that for two-thirds of the year the station was manned by new and totally inexperienced missionaries, there has been a phenomenal increase in membership, and we feel that there is also a noticeable growth in grace in the lives of many of the Christians. For the eight months that Messrs. Holder and Hobgood have been in charge, they wish especially to acknowledge their gratitude for the indispensable help rendered by Mr. Eldred in his two quarterly visits for teaching and examining the candidates for baptism. During the year five men have been ordained, three of whom are in the evangelistic work, while the other two are efficient elders of the Lotumbe congregation. There has been some anxiety over conditions, but a general survey shows progress that justifies rejoicing. In humility we give thanks to the Father for the richness of His blessings on this church. We know that it is not growing because of our work, for we have wrought in fear and in inexperience, but His hand is not slack nor His power shortened.

The Church.—The year has been one of large growth for the Lotumbe church. There have been 465 baptisms, considerably more than doubling the membership. The loss through death has been large. A considerable number in the heathen villages, away from Christian influences, have yielded to the pressure of temptation and fallen away into the old customs. But with all this there has been a gain of 373 members, or 122%. This makes a total membership, at the beginning of the present year, of 678.

The church has conducted seven regular services each week, with many additional ones at the times of the quarterly ingatherings of the evangelists and inquirers. A good Sunday-school has been maintained, with an average attendance of over 200. For the last seven months the lessons have been from the life of Christ as recorded by Luke. The offerings of the church amounted to 460.90 francs, or $92. We hope to see this doubled during the present year. In addition to this, the Christians on the Upper Lokolo River have maintained five evangelists the last three months, and have also built a mammoth canoe, worth $80.

Evangelistic.—The Lotumbe church is filled with the spirit of evangelism. At the close of the year we were maintaining fifty-eight evangelists. In spite of the apparent abnormal growth of the evangelistic work, there still are many very promising fields calling unanswered for teachers. Some of our evangelists lack training, but this will be largely obviated as the station grows older and is better manned. On the High Momboyo are our most fruitful fields. In the Lokolo district we have eighteen evangelists. This work has been opened only two years, yet during the year there were nearly 150 baptized in this section. They have sent out five of their own evangelists during the last quarter. They have hewn out a huge canoe, worth $80 on the spot. It cost the mission $2. The remaining expense was met by the Christians there.

Itineration.—Two itinerating trips have been made into the Lotumbe field. The first of these was at the time of Secretary Corey's visit, when he and most of our missionaries went on the Oregon to Iyete, 175 miles above Lotumbe. Here seventeen were baptized, and the community so impressed that the report soon came to us that Iyete was all stirred up over the gospel. From Iyete the Oregon returned, while Messrs. Smith, Holder, and Hobgood went by boat fifty miles farther up, to Wafania, and then walked across country forty-five miles to Mbangilombi. Here, after three days of teaching and strengthening the evangelists, forty-four were baptized. The return to Lotumbe was by canoe, the missionaries sleeping by the riverside without shelter for four nights.

The second trip was made by Messrs. Holder and Hobgood during the closing days of April and the first of May. This trip occupied eleven days. Not being proficient in the language, the missionaries left most of the teaching to the native Christians, several splendid teachers having been brought along for the purpose. The showing of the stereopticon views and the vigorous preaching stirred up a good deal of interest. Four were baptized at Becimbola by our ordained elder, Longomo. Many of our fields are calling loudly for visits from the missionaries, and we hope that most of them may be visited during the present year. This is one of the most essential phases of our work.

School.—A large school has been maintained throughout the year. Two months of the year, while the missionaries were away, only one session was held daily, but the remainder of the time both a morning and afternoon session was held. Four native boys, who have learned to read and write well at Lotumbe, were employed as teachers. The missionaries have also taught three classes daily, two in reading and writing, and one in advanced work for the teachers. Very encouraging progress has been made. In addition to the workmen, about fifty boys have been maintained. These work three hours in the morning to earn their living. At one time we had over one hundred boys, but soon found that we could not maintain so many, so since Christmas the number has been cut to fifty. More and more are we learning the importance of thoroughly training the boys, for their lives can be so completely transformed and the power of the Word can come directly into their lives.

Building.—A good many things have been accomplished at Lotumbe during the year. The missionaries' home has been completed and now waiting for the painter. The cook-house is finished. In the permanent pantry is the temporary storeroom for the mission goods. We have built to our native church, thereby doubling the seating capacity. But another addition will soon be necessary to contain our Quarterly Conference. A workmen's row is about completed, composed of five good mud houses, and affording accommodations for twelve workmen and their families. Something has been done towards beautifying the station and it is becoming a more desirable place to live. Our sawyers have brought from the forest over ten thousand feet of lumber, most of which remains on hand to be used in new buildings. The most encouraging thing about our workmen is that they are in training for the greater work. During the last six months six of them have begun to read and write a little.

Medical.—Although no doctor has been at Lotumbe, the simpler treatments have been made in great number. No less than 6,000 treatments have been made at the mission dispensary. Two of the up-river traders have been sheltered and nursed until they were able to seek more efficient treatment elsewhere. The station received over 100 francs for medical treatment from the traders alone, and one gave as his thank-offering 50 francs extra. Receipts from sales of medicines are counted in the receipts from the mission store.

Girls' Work.—Since Mrs. Smith returned to America, the mission girls have been under the care of Ekota Mboyo, the lovable Christian grandmother of Lotumbe. They are four in number, and three of them are making encouraging progress in school, along with other little girls of Lotumbe Christians. This old deaconess has also six single women in her home who have taken refuge from polygamous husbands and are seeking the life of love and liberty.

MONIEKA.

The report of Monieka station for this year includes that of the resident missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Jaggard, for eight and a half months, and of the native helpers for the remainder of the year.

While many of their hopes and expectations have been realized, yet in some things they have been disappointed.

The work at Monieka is in a very peculiar and trying condition. Located as we are, very near the headquarters of the largest trading company in the Congo, it can easily be seen how its commercial interests would affect the Monieka church. Without doubt, our members are scattered over more territory than any other of our mission churches. As workmen they have gone on steamers and, with their agents, all over the Bussira Valley, and it is not impossible to hear of a Monieka church member in the head-waters of any of the tributaries of the Ruki. Also, many have gone to posts at the mouth, near Bolenge. So the membership, besides being in many outposts, is also scattered far and wide in this commercialism.

In Monieka the membership is about 200, and the others are non-resident. During the year ten have passed to their reward in Monieka, and about twenty others in the outposts. Several have been disciplined, and some have returned after proper repentance and confession of guilt.

As to the non-resident members, there can be given no very definite reports.

There have been added by baptism, 276. The church members have given for the support of evangelists nearly 1,000 francs, or $200, during the nine months, and their standard of giving and church life has been materially raised by the coming of the missionary to their midst.

For the most part the evangelists have had very little more instruction than that given by the natives in charge formerly, and of course their preaching is not of a very good quality, yet it is being used for the conversion of many.

Evangelistic.—As yet the missionaries have been kept busy with the station work and not enabled to do any itinerating, except to make one journey to a neighboring mission station to see a dentist. This enabled them to visit one outpost and to see several villages of the back country in one direction. One trip was made to Leopoldville, one up the High Momboyo River, and one up the High Lomela River, and one to Longa during the year.

Station Work.—On the station everybody has been busy. Within four months of landing the new tin house was occupied—although not finished, it was much better than the little, two-roomed mud hut in which they went to housekeeping at first.

Material for a cook-house and storeroom have been prepared. Three long native houses have been constructed for workmen. Much work has been done in laying out paths and in starting fruits and gardens for the use of the missionaries and native helpers.

Medical Work.—In a medical way much has been done, four major and many minor operations having been performed, and 2,500 or 3,000 treatments given. Many white men from trading and State posts have been treated, and the receipts for this have been nearly $400.

School and Church Services.—Eight regular services weekly have been held, besides several other services in connection with the school. Two of these have been for women.

The Sunday-school has averaged for the nine months, 193, and the day school, which we have been able to conduct the latter part of the year, has had an enrollment of 135 and an average attendance of over 100.

S. S. "OREGON."

On account of Capt. Moon being home on furlough, Mr. Hensey has been in charge of the Oregon, but Capt. Edwards, of the Congo Balolo Mission, made two trips to Leopoldville, and Dr. Jaggard made one. The steamer made, in all, four trips to the Pool, one to the High Momboyo, one to the Juapa, one to the Lomela, one to the Lulanga, and three to the Mobangi River, besides numerous visits to our own stations.

As the Congo Balolo Mission had sold their steamer, and their new one was not yet built, they found themselves with a captain and no steamer, while the Foreign Christian Missionary Society had a steamer and no captain. So forces were combined, and Captain Edwards took the trips above mentioned. The Oregon has done the transporting for both missions, and part of the time for the American Baptists also, as well as quite a good deal for the Government.

At the time of Secretary Corey's visit, Dr. Jaggard took the steamer down to meet him at the Pool, and he made his home on the steamer all of the time of his visit. Without the steamer the secretary would have seen but a tiny part of the field occupied by the Congo mission. But with this gallant little craft he saw in seven weeks all the principal places, and was able to look over quite a good deal of unoccupied territory.

In November a short trip was made in the Lulanga River, and, through the kindness of the Congo Balolo Mission, the steamer was put on the slip at Bonginda and the hull scraped and painted. It was a matter for rejoicing to find the hull in as good condition as the day she was launched.

During the year the Oregon has traveled about 10,890 miles, and earned $1,676.60, of which $649.60 is still owed to the mission by the Government. The payment has been delayed on account of some red tape.

That which has been accomplished has been made possible largely by the fidelity of the Christian crew, especially of Ekomboloko, the head wheelman, and of Mboloko, the chief engineer. These two, who are also deacons in the Bolenge church, have been untiring in their devotion to the steamer and the mission.

As this report is being written, Capt. and Mrs. Moon are landing at Matadi, and all will be glad to see him once more on the bridge of the Oregon.

TIBET.

MISSIONARIES AND STATION.

Batang.—Missionaries: Dr. A. L. Shelton, Mrs. A. L. Shelton, J. C. Ogden, Mrs. J. C. Ogden, Dr. W. M. Hardy, Mrs. Nina P. Hardy, H. A. Baker, Mrs. H. A. Baker; evangelists, 4; helpers, 1.

Owing to the revolution in China, the position of our missionaries at Batang became very dangerous and they were obliged to flee from the field. Conditions on the Tibetan border have been unsettled since, but now the outlook is better and our workers are preparing to return to their work. J. C. Ogden and wife have been in America, where he has been recuperating from a nervous breakdown. Dr. A. L. Shelton and wife have also been in America. Dr. Shelton has been one of the Million Dollar team, and has done very efficient service. Dr. Wm. Hardy and wife and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baker have been in our China mission, learning the language and aiding the work there. The Sheltons and Hardys are leaving Nankin, China, this fall for the long journey to Batang. In January the Ogdens and Bakers expect to follow them. The friends of the work will rejoice to know that one person has covenanted to build all the churches and chapels needed for the evangelization of Tibet as fast as we can send missionaries and open stations and out-stations. This comes as a great challenge to our people to occupy this needy land.

ENGLAND.

Leslie W. Morgan.

There has been a net gain of five per cent in the membership of our churches during the year ending June 30th last. This is the second year in succession in which a gain has been reported, and the total membership stands over ten per cent higher than it did two years ago. For several years previous we had had somewhat severe reverses. There have been 263 baptisms during the year in question, and seventy-seven additions by letter and statement.

The evangelistic services held by Jas. Small were largely instrumental in bringing to pass this numerical progress. Services were held in all our churches between August, 1912, and April, 1913, and both Mr. and Mrs. Small made many friends.

It is with regret that we have here to record the loss sustained by the death, in December, 1912, of our brother William Durban, who had faithfully served our cause by voice and pen for the past thirty years. As this report is written, two of our preachers are also leaving for America—J. H. Versey, pastor successively at Lancaster, Cheltenham, and Swindon over a period of twenty years, and for the past ten years or more business manager of the Christian Monthly; and R. Geo. Quiggan, for the past four years at Birkenhead, where he rendered good service. In March last H. A. Procter, the efficient pastor at Lancaster for six years, resigned to accept a call to Australia. And in July, T. S. Buckingham closed a two years' energetic ministry at Southampton, and is now giving his attention voluntarily to a new work in the nearby suburb of Woolston.

The committee appointed in 1910 to confer with a like committee from the English Churches of Christ has continued negotiations during the year, but it has now been mutually agreed that there seems to be no reasonable hope of discovering a common ground for union, "which," as our English brethren put it, "would not involve the surrender of our conscientious convictions." In the final communications each committee has expressed to the other its appreciation of the fraternal courtesy manifested throughout the correspondence. The papers on both sides were prepared with great care, and it has been mutually agreed to have them printed for purposes of information in both groups of churches on the points at issue, and as a permanent record of this re-examination of New Testament teaching and its application to the church of to-day. If our brethren in America will secure copies of this pamphlet, when issued, they will get a better understanding of the situation which we have to face. The relation of the "anti" section in America to the main body of the Disciples of Christ is scarcely a parallel case, as is sometimes assumed. The closing paragraph of our last communication to our English brethren reads: "If even now you have any proposition to make looking to a better acquaintance, any measure of co-operation, small or great, mutual recognition as Churches of Christ, or union in part or complete, we will gladly consider it. It would have to be a most serious barrier if we were prevented from taking the shortest or longest step toward answering the prayer of our Lord."

Every effort is being made to bring our churches to self-support, and progress has been made in some quarters, although the conditions are such that we can never be sure that ground gained will be permanently maintained. It is altogether probable that the work will have to be carried on on somewhat different lines when the grant from the Foreign Christian Missionary Society eventually ceases, under the plan which has been adopted of a ten per cent reduction year by year.

We covet earnestly the prayers and sympathy of our brethren in the work laid upon us. We are taking a hand more and more, both as individuals and as churches, in the great movements looking toward Christian union, and we are endeavoring to make our contribution by a sane and winsome interpretation of the principles for which we stand. This is a work well worth doing, and there is no more strategic place for doing it than in England.

ANNUITY FUND.

The rapid growth of the Annuity Fund of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society is a striking testimony to the favor with which the plan is regarded by the intelligent men and women who are friends of Foreign Missions.

The Plan.

The Society receives gifts of $100 or more and binds itself by a bond to pay the donors, so long as they shall live, a fair rate of interest. The interest depends upon the age of the donor, and is paid semi-annually. There is no expense for repairs or taxes. At the last the money goes for the advancement of the gospel in all the earth.

Great Advantages.

The advantages of the Annuity Plan to the Foreign Society are obvious.

We repeat a few advantages to the donors:

1. Certainty of Income.—In the judgment of many of our best business men, the character and standing of the Foreign Society makes its bond as safe a guarantee as Government bonds. The interest paid is larger.

2. Permanence.—Most investments are liable to expire within a few years, or to change in value. Reinvestments are often perplexing, and safe and satisfactory ones are difficult to secure. All uncertainties and perplexities of this kind are avoided by the Annuity Plan. The interest is promptly paid when due.

3. Money Does Good.—Money placed in the Annuity Fund begins its usefulness at once, and it goes on repeating itself in blessings for all the years to come.

4. Avoid Cost and Delay.—After death there is no cost or delay of settlement of this part of an estate. You have enjoyed a life income, and the money is now the property of the Foreign Society to carry on the Lord's work. There is no expense or litigation in the settlement of the estate.

As An Investment.

The plan commends itself not only to those who are actually depending upon the income which they receive, but it is also an attractive investment for those who have abundant means, and who desire to make safe and permanent investments. Well-to-do people, having looked about for new investments, have in a number of cases decided to invest several thousand dollars in this way. All such investors can rejoice in knowing that the money will go to objects which are dear to all Christian hearts.

The whole amount raised from the first is $508,801.75.

For further information, correspond with

F. M. RAINS, Secretary, Box 884, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BEQUESTS.

In thirty-seven years the Foreign Christian Missionary Society has received from bequests the sum of $157,696.24. Some of the larger societies receive that much every year. Bequests amounting to a million or more have been made. One amounted to five million. More people possessed of money or property should be arranging to give a part or all to the Lord's work. They may need their means now in their business or to support themselves. On this account they may not be able to give now as generously as they desire. But they should take such steps as are necessary that their estates may go on doing good for all time to come. Mrs. Tubman bequeathed $30,000 to the Foreign Society; Albert Allen, $10,000; Dr. Gerould, $9,000; Timothy Coop, $5,000; Mrs. Lathrop Cooley, $5,000; others have given smaller amounts. These bequests have been of untold value to the Society in its work.

Christian people often leave their property to those who have an abundance of their own. God can hardly look with favor on such a bestowment, with the present great need of the world. Many invest in earthly monuments. The best and most lasting monument is not of granite or marble, but of perpetuated good deeds. Some people make no provision whatever for their property before death, thus leaving a great power for good unused and undirected by themselves.

A thousand millions of people are yet without the gospel. God has intrusted to us the evangelization of the world. As Jesus Christ becomes a blessing to us, we must pass the blessing on. What is necessary for one man is necessary for a world of men. Money is the medium for carrying the message. Money will do more now for the spread of the gospel in heathen lands than ever before. Never before has the opportunity been so great, or the responsibility so heavy. Why not execute your will so that the money will go on preaching the gospel through the future years? How shall Christ's stewards, to whom much has been given, render a good account of their stewardship? How shall they make their memory precious and fragrant long after they have passed from earth? Monuments of wood and stone crumble to dust; but the Kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, into which we build, shall endure to the glory and honor of His name, when time shall be no more.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I also give and bequeath to the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Ohio, the sum of $..... for the purposes of the Society, as specified in the Act of Incorporation. And I hereby direct my executor (or executors) to pay said sum to the Treasurer of said Society, taking his receipt therefor, within months of my decease.

I also give, bequeath, and devise to the Foreign Christian Missionary Society one certain lot of land with the building thereon standing (here describe the premises with exactness and particularity) to be held and possessed by the said Society, their successors and assigns forever, for the purposes specified in the Act of Incorporation.

All the rest and residue of my estate, of whatever form or character, I give, devise, and bequeath to

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this day of, 191..

Signed.....

(Here sign your name in the presence of three witnesses. None of the witnesses should be interested in the will.)
